Viet Fires 2 Missiles At Bombers

Infantry Continues Intensive Search For More Rockets

SAIGON (AP) — Two enemy antiaircraft missiles were fired at U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacking North Vietnam's southern panhandle Thursday, the U.S. Command reported today.

Spokesman said none of the eight-engine bombers was hit. The B52s have been fired upon before by the Soviet-made missiles on raids in North Vietnam's southernmost section, but none ever has been hit so far in the war.

The B52s began a massive bombing campaign Monday against enemy artillery sites and storage areas in the panhandle and the northern part of the demilitarized zone. Since then, they have flown 28 raids in the area.

Bombers Vulnerable

The giant bombers are considered vulnerable to the enemy high-altitude missiles. U.S. fighter-bombers—faster, smaller and lower-flying—ordinarily attack known enemy missile sites before the B52s head for the DMZ or North Vietnam, and the B52s generally try to steer clear of these sites.

The fighter-bombers attacked one missile site 13 miles above the DMZ Thursday and pilots reported their bombs touched off four fires. They flew 141 missions today against supply lines in the panhandle.

The B52s returned today to pounding enemy bases around Saigon in a massive allied campaign to head off a threatened attack on the capital. They flew five missions 28 to 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

More Arms Found

On the ground, allied troops uncovered two more important enemy arms caches today, bringing the number found since Wednesday to five.

"We're getting better intelligence," a U.S. spokesman said.

All Workers Back On Job After Pact

Council Will Act On Pay Increase At Monday Meeting

With all city employes back at their jobs today as a result of a wage settlement reached with Council late Wednesday night, incinerator department crews will work all day Saturday to help catch up with collection of an eight - day accumulation of garbage and trash.

Officials said all service departments were working at normal levels this morning — the street, water and sewage departments as well as the incinerator crews and the "Meter Maids."

THE INCINERATOR crew was making trash collections today on its regular Friday route, which covers the Pleasant Heights and Lisbon St. area.

The department usually works with only a skeleton crew of two on Saturdays, but a full force will be on duty tomorrow to make collections on the trash and garbage route that was the first to miss service when a strike began June 27, Supt. John Melvin said.

The crews will cover these streets:

W. 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th Sts., Monroe St., Jackson St., Jefferson St. and Market St.

On Monday, the crew will begin collections on so-called Route 2. The trucks will cover: Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave., Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St. and St. Clair Ave.

The incinerator crews were off duty one day longer than the balance of the city employes. The garbage and trash collectors walked out the morning of June 27. The other employes voted to go out "in sympathy" and quit work on June 28.

A 5 per cent pay hike, plus other concessions, was accepted Wednesday night by Local 677,

With Latin Heads

LBJ Prepares To Leave For Summit Conference

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, after observing an old fashioned Fourth of July, mixes relaxation with a little ranch-style diplomacy today before taking off for a weekend Central American summit conference in El Salvador.

The President and First Lady flew to San Antonio Thursday and spent three hours at HemisFair where Johnson indulged in some traditional patriotic rhetoric, took in the sights and sampled a couple of rather drippy ice cream cones.

The President also issued a statement late in the day expressing deep concern over disruption by hecklers of a speaking appearance by presidential aspirant George Wallace.

Hosts Latin President

Johnson today informally entertains President Rene Barrientos Ortuno of Bolivia at his ranch home. Barrientos was in Texas for Bolivia Day Saturday at HemisFair. The Latin chief executive once attended Air Force flight school at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio.

Johnson will fly to El Salvador Saturday for talks with the chief executives of Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and El Salvador. He will remain there until Monday.

Touring the fairgrounds with Johnson Thursday were about 40 diplomats, most of them ambassadors from Latin American countries.

The Johnsons made the 75-mile trip from their ranch by helicopter, landing in a parking lot at the world's fair. They drove to the American pavilion where the President received a 21-gun salute before delivering an eight-minute speech.

Talks On Independence

He said the nation will celebrate July 4th as long as it goes about "its proper business."

"And that proper business is helping to defend and helping to enlarge the independence of man," he said.

Johnson said the theme of the Declaration of Independence, signed 192 years ago, is "political independence to insure individual independence."

"Each generation in America discovers this theme as if it were new," he added. "And in a sense it is new. The thrust of America always, then, is to expand and to adjust the concept of independence to a new and constantly changing era."

In his statement on the heckling of Wallace, which occurred Wednesday night in Minneapolis, the President said:

"The conduct of a handful who interfere with the rights of others to speak is the antithesis of what we began 192 years ago today.

Defends Free Speech

"However ardently we may disagree with what a man says, we must stand with Voltaire in our defense of his right to say what he will."

Johnson said that if every American would listen to every point of view, then decide what

Sub Delays Criticized By Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civilians of the Pentagon and proponents of surface ships are blocking development of U.S. submarines while Russia is far ahead in numbers of undersea craft, charges Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover.

The principal tactic being used to delay submarine progress is "to study things to death," Rickover adds.

This is particularly true, he says, of his proposal for a new superquiet sub that could be used to track Russian missile-carrying submarines.

Rickover, known as the father of the nuclear submarine, commented in testimony before the Senate preparedness subcommittee in March and a transcript of the testimony was released Thursday night.

He said the Navy agreed last December that it needed a new sub, but that Dr. John S. Foster, director of defense research and engineering and principal adviser to the secretary of defense on such matters, has kept asking for more studies.

"Since Dr. Foster got the problem, he has made four or five studies ... what the next delaying tactic will be I simply don't know," Rickover said.

Foster, in a later appearance before the subcommittee, said he supported the effort to lower submarine noise levels, but thought other things should be considered before building what might be an expensive, one-of-a-kind vessel.

Pittsburgh Store Destroyed

Police Hunt For Youths Who Tossed Firebombs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police today continued investigation and search for youths who tossed the firebombs that destroyed a store operated by a charity organization Thursday.

The store, a three-story brick building, was operated by the St. Vincent De Paul Society in the city's Negro Homewood section. The society sold second-hand furniture and other refinished goods through the store.

Harry J. Keller, Pittsburgh fire chief, said youths tossed firebombs through the front and side windows of the store, starting a six-alarm fire.

"It was a firebomb-arson," said Keller. "I'd say damage was $25,000."

Residents in the area were shocked and angered by the blaze.

"It doesn't make sense to me," said Richard Brewer, 31. "Why should anybody want to burn them out? After this, I'm afraid to go to work and leave my children at home."

James McKelvie said, "I think it's a damn shame. It's not just kids. "They're running everyone out."

The store was one of five operated in Pittsburgh by the society, said Msgr. Bassom Pierre, director of the society.

Some Rain May Fall After 'Glorious 4th'

After Thursday's "glorious" weather, a few scattered thundershowers should not be too hard to take.

That's the outlook, with the forecast calling for partly cloudy and a little warmer today with the showers, due to end by late tonight.

Today's high is to be in the mid to upper 70s and tonight's low in the 50s.

Fair and cooler weather is on tap for Saturday.

Temperatures are due to remain below normal through Wednesday. A warming trend about Monday will give in to cooler weather toward mid-week.

Pilot Avoids Hijack Try By Prisoner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A prisoner aboard an airliner carrying 71 passengers slipped away from his guards long enough to try a daring plot to hijack the plane. Then, he sat back between his guards and waited.

None of the other passengers aboard the Trans World Airlines plane knew of the threat made quietly by John Hamilton Morris to a stewardess:

"I've got dynamite in this bag. And my two buddies have guns. Turn this plane around and fly it to Hermosillo, Mexico."

The stewardess told the pilot. He told aviation authorities in Los Angeles by radio. At their direction Capt. C. P. Barron changed course. For 20 minutes, while Morris sat between two deputy U.S. marshals, Barron slowly circled southern Nevada.

Then, as Barron sat the Boeing 727 down at McCarran Field, Morris bolted for a door.

Killer Used Stolen Gun In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A blurred picture emerged today of the Central Park sniper as a nervous, secretive man with a quick temper who apparently stole a gun from a friend and used it to kill one person and wound three others in a wild shooting spree Wednesday.

Police said Thursday that the .45-caliber Smith and Wesson 1917 Army-type revolver which the sniper used before he was shot down by police belonged to Kiril Dimitroz of Jackson, N.J.

Dimitroz, like the sniper, Angelo Angelof, was from Bulgaria. He told police Angelof had visited him about 10 days ago, but said he was not aware the revolver was missing until investigators told him.

The New Jersey man said, however, that he was not really friendly with Angelof, but with the latter's roommate, a man identified by police sources as Kyril Dikov, about 45. Dikov was in St. John's Hospital in ueens, where he was being treated for hand injuries suffered in an industrial accident.

Dikov reportedly met Angelof at Rova Farms in Freehold, N. J., where the latter was a dishwasher. The dishwasher job was one of the earliest Angelof held after his arrival in this country, on a Greek passport, in 1966. More recently he worked for a Queens book and magazine distributor earning about $70 a week until he walked off the job Tuesday.

Dikov and other friends of Angelof said the sniper was usually a quiet man, but would suddenly become moody. One

Both explosions came from the Steubenville Rd. hill across the creek south of here — one at midnight and the other — a super-blast — at 2:30 a. m.

Residents said the concussion shook their homes and rattled came from a family living two miles west of here.

Residents and storekeepers were still reporting damage this morning. The list covers over half a page in the police log.

Seven Children Drowned During Outing In Florida

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) — Seven children on a holiday outing and a man who was giving them a boatride drowned Thursday when their 12-foot outboard flipped over, hurling them into Lake Easy about five miles south of here.

The only survivor was an 11-year-old girl who clung to the overturned boat and was rescued by a vacationing deputy sheriff.

"When the first car got there, the families of the kids were wading around in the water, crying and searching for bodies," said Capt. Earl Branch of the Polk County sheriff's department. "None of them could swim."

The families were making an all-day Fourth of July outing of it, said a nearby cottage owner. "They had set up their picnic stuff early in the morning."

Branch said William Harrell, 35, of Lake Wales, loaded the eight children into the boat for a ride around the small lake.

Raymond Parks of Winter Haven said he was fishing nearby when the boat started swinging toward the picnic site on the bank.

He said the boat rolled over in the middle of the turn, pitching its cargo of children into 15 feet of water about 100 yards from shore.

Branch said Deputy Ray Greubel, who was camping with his family nearby, swam to the overturned boat and found Harrell and Venera Clay clinging to its side.

Witnesses said the girl lost her hold on the boat and both men attempted to save her. The deputy grasped the girl and brought her back to the boat, Branch said. But when he turned around, Harrell had gone under.

Greubel recovered a second little girl, but could not revive her when they reached shore.

The bodies were recovered during a three-hour search by divers and men in boats with grappling hooks.

The dead were listed as Harrell, Belinda Clay, 12, and her 14-year-old sister, Cynthia, of Lakeland; their cousin, Jimmie Elaine Clay, 9, and Sheila Jennings, 8, Carolyn Jones, 11, Cynthia Jackson, 7, and Rhonda Tucker, 10, all of Lake Wales.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make an easier and straighter job of cutting glass with my glass-cutter—

A. — After wiping clean the path of your cutter on the glass, paint this line with a little turpentine or any thin oil.

Q. — How can I treat leather that has mildewed?

A. — Try wiping off with a cloth wrung out of a solution of equal parts denatured alcohol and water, then drying in the sun.

Q. —How can I improvise a good stylus for use on a mimeograph stencil?

A. — A discarded ballpoint pen, one that has gone dry, makes a very efficient stylus . . .in fact, it doesn't dig into and tear the stencil as a genuine stylus sometimes tends to do.

Q. — How can I add more softness and pliability to the leather or leatherette on chairs

A. — By rubbing a little skim milk over the leather several times a year.

Q. — How can I best loosen gelatins from their molds

A. — Dip a small, pointed knife in warm water and use this to loosen firm gelatin from around the edges of the mold. Then quickly dip the edges of the mold just to the rim in warm water. Shake the mold slightly, cover with a serving plate, then invert both plate and mold. Lift off the mold.

Q. — How can I add a gloss to bathroom tile floors when cleaning them?

A. — By adding a half - cup of starch to your washing water.

The fire-wrecked store had been operating in Homewood for 12 years and had four employes—two white and two black.

"We are always trying to help the poor," said Msgr. Pierre "We open the store every day, offer the goods at very low cost and just try to serve the community as best we can.

"We are a nonprofit organization," he said.

The firebombing came just a day after Mayor Joseph M. Barr asked city council to allocate funds for the hiring of 190 more policemen to deal with recurring violence.

There have been a series of firebombings, looting and window smashing in the city in the wake of racial violence following the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The outbreak prompted James W. Slusser, superintendent of police, to make an unannounced appearance on an audience telephone participation radio program.

Slusser said persons who take a firebomb in their hand "are quite likely to die. . .They're quite likely to be shot in the process of that bombing."

Police haven't made any arrests in the society firebombing.

"We're working on it," said a desk sergeant. "We haven't arrested anybody yet, but we're working on it."

Toxic Gas Released From Broken Bottle

CINCINNATI (AP)—About 60 employes of the Railway Express Agency in west Cincinnati were evacuated from their building Thursday after a toxic gas was released from a bottle broken as it was being loaded.

Fire Marshal Richard Spelman said the gas, bromide tulene, apparently caused no injury. Firemen wearing gas masks flushed away the compound and the employes returned to the building after two hours.

Traffic Toll Reaches 224

By The Associated Press

The national toll of deaths in traffic mounted steadily today as millions of Americans returned to work after an Independence Day off and many others extended their holiday outings into the long weekend.

The total reached 224 midway through the second day of the four-day holiday.

Although showers dampened parts of the Southeast and portions of the midcontinent, dry weather offered good driving conditions over most of the country for the Fourth of July and today.

The National Safety Council has estimated that between 700 and 800 Americans may die in motor vehicle accidents in the weekend that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

For comparison purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of traffic deaths during a non-holiday period of the same length and counted 553 fatalities. The weekend surveyed ran from 6 p.m. Wednesday, June 19, to midnight Sunday, June 23.

Drownings and boating mishaps also accounted for a large number of accident deaths across the country Thursday.

According to present economic standards, the value of a housewife's work around the home is $159.34 per week.

The world's initial development of hydro - electric power was at Niagara Falls in 1877.

Needed–Some Solutions

Settlement of the strike of the city employes over wage demands is not entirely satisfasfactory to the residents of East Liverpool, despite what interest they might have had in insuring the municipal workers received proper pay.

The citizens have in the past month had to forego adequate police and fire protection, have been deprived of garbage collection and street maintenance, and have witnessed the pollution of the Ohio River by 2 million gallons of waste daily, a clearcut health hazard.

The agreement by which salary and wage increases have been allotted the workers reveals no actual fund assignments for such boosts, only reduction in manpower and services to the public.

The experiences in municipal government in the past few weeks demonstrate anew the present financial limitations of East Liverpool, and the need for long range planning to obtain the funds which a progressive community must have to properly serve its people, and to attract new residents, new industry.

We cannot expect capable men and women to work in government without compensation proportional to their skills.

At the same time, we cannot be expected to do without the vital services on which the public has a right to depend at all times.

Determined efforts should be made to prevent a similar breakdown of municipal operations in the future, to guarantee working arrangements for a prescribed time, to seek financial resources that will permit fair and equitable pay scales.

It is no longer enough to ask for cooperation and understanding on these problems; solutions are needed.

Czechoslovakia Poll Is Revealing

Czechoslovakia, which continues to attract the interest of the rest of the world in its attempt to achieve social democratization, has provided still another glimpse into the depth of its desire for liberalization.

The Czech Communist party newspaper, itself, pulled aside the curtain for the world to see. It conducted a poll of its readers and reported that 90 per cent of its nonCommunist readers favor the creation of opposition parties within the nation.

AN EVEN GREATER surprise was that more than half of the Communists who replied to the poll questions also favored opposition parties.

The response to another question must really have shaken up the party leadership, at least the conservative faction.

The question was whether or not the Communist party is a necessary condition for the socialist democracy now proclaimed as the goal of the reformist Communist leadership.

About 75 per cent of the nonCommunist leaders replied it was not and 38 per cent of the party members with secondary or higher education felt the same way.

Obviously the people of Czechoslovakia, if this poll of 38,000 is a fair indication, are far more eager for the freedoms denied them under communism than their reformist leaders.

Alexander Dubcek, the party leader, has said the party will not tolerate the formation of opposition parties.

WHETHER THIS IS talk designed for Russian ears or whether he means what he said remains to be seen.

Certainly the people of Czechoslovakia are indicating the direction they wish to go. Those polled gave additional evidence to the depth of their support and desire for liberalization through their answers to questions involving freedom of the press, radio and television.

A law abolishing censorship in the nation was enacted just last week.

Meanwhile, the western world continues to watch the ferment in Czechoslovakia hopefully.

Airlines Must Halt Hijackings

In the wake of seizures of airplanes operated in or by South American countries, a policy of searching the person and possessions of each boarding passenger was instituted.

This may be in the offing for Americans who patronize airlines. If officials of the U.S. airlines are unable to devise ways to prevent the hijacking of the planes in flight, the passengers may demand the search measure as indispensable to their safety.

The alternative, of course, would be a falloff in airline patronage.

Two threats to safety must be eliminated by the airlines. These are bombs which are secretly placed aboard their planes, triggered to explode in midair, and guns in the hands of dangerous men who use them to force pilots to divert their aircraft to Cuba.

It may be necessary to be searched electronically by a machine which can detect a metal mass or, if that is not feasible, the "frisking" can be done by specially trained personnel.

It is not a pleasant prospect for the airlines, which pride themselves on doing everything possible for their passengers' comfort, safety and pleasure.

But unless hijacking is halted permanently, the airlines may find these preventive measures forced upon them by the demands of the flying public.

Warmer Relations With France

Some slight improvement in the relationship between the United States and France can be expected in the wake of the French elections.

The truly amazing victory scored by President Charles de Gaulle's regime assures a continuation of his party's basic policies but some shifts are anticipated.

A more conservative foreign policy is looked for in view of the fact that De Gaulle blames the leftists, the French Communists, for creating the turmoil that almost unseated him.

A warmer attitude toward the United States should result, in part, because of the U.S. understanding of French problems during the crisis, including public support for the franc.

A corresponding coolness toward Moscow and Peking is forseen.

Americans can welcome this development for the apparent straying from the fold of one of our principal allies was cause for much concern.

However, France's reassessment of its foreign policy apparently will not effect its program to wean the province of Quebec away from Canada. No budget cuts in this program have been announced by France.

Thus America's satisfaction with De Gaulle's resurgency must be tempered with annoyance and displeasure at his attempt to stir up trouble with our northern neighbor, the 101-year-old federation which is Canada.

Letter To The Editor

In reference to the letter concerning the Ceramic Playrites first presentation, let me suggest that anyone who frequents the theater to escape reality should restrict themselves to "Cinderella", "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" or "Jack and the Bean Stalk". All modern plays of our time are realities of life bound around comic, dramatic or tragic situations.

I don't believe I have to defend the morality of the play. Edward Albee's play "The American Dream" is based on symbolism. Therefore it can be interpreted in as masy ways as there interpret it as immoral.

As the director of the play, I interpreted the material aspects, and tried to bring forth the idea that our great society in its infinite struggle to build a better world is in reality placing material standards of satisfaction above the real values of life.

As to the "sex promotion" in "Never Too Late", a three-act comedy by Sumner Arthur Long, I can only say, come see it and judge for yourselves.

Negro Still Faces Problems

There are scores in all fields who cuss out Clifford L. Alexander Jr. regularly. They say he just doesn't understand, and that solving the "Negro problem" simply by saying go out and hire more black workers is far too simplified a solution.

Mr. Alexander, a former White House aide, is chairman of the commission empowered to provide equal employment opportunities across the land. His critics say that workers of any race, color or creed must at least be qualified, must make themselves available and must be willing to work in the available jobs.

Mr. Alexander says it's industry's problem and labor's too. I asked him to "lay it on the line." Why does he believe as he does? Here is his reply:

By Clifford L. Alexander Jr., Chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

WASHINGTON: There has been much talk recently and some action on the continuing employment crisis facing America's minority work force.

A few major corporations have launched experimental training programs for the "hardcore unemployed"; the number of companies actively recruiting top Negro graduates has multiplied several fold; community opinion against the blatant discriminator has hardened.

These are encouraging symbols of progress — but they are no more than symbols.

The average Negro job seeker still faces entry barriers and promotional problems unknown to the white applicant; employment opportunities for the Puerto Rican or Mexican-American are tightly circumscribed simply by virtue of his accent or family origin.

And American industry squanders over $30 billion annually in unrealized Gross National Product through the systematic rejection of minority potential.

Four years ago, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act banned job discrimination; since then, a growing body of executive orders and judicial rulings have reinforced this legislation.

TO A SIGNIFICANT NUMBER of American businessmen, however, discriminatory employment practices remain standard operating procedure, rationalized by the claim of social necessity or company tradition.

The "White Only" sign has been removed from the window, but it has been replaced by other forms of exclusion. The minority applicant is free to apply—but may have to secure a recommendation from a member of the currently all-white work force unknown to him.

He may be subjected to qualifying exams heavily weighted toward white, middleclass experience; his hiring may be contingent on membership in a union that has steadily resisted integration.

Whether his application is discreetly filed away or rejected outright, the effect on the minority applicant is identical — and conclusive.

Racism has been packaged and presented in slogans worthy of industry's best marketing efforts — but the products remain unchanged. The bigot in grey flannel is as wrongheaded, and as destructive, as his redneck precursor. And the effect is the same — exclusion or failure to promote the minority worker.

Discriminatory action is frequently wrapped in the cloak of social necessity. We've all heard the excuse, "I'd love to hire a Negro — or a Puerto Rican — but the rest of the workers might object."

No businessman would let company consensus stand as his excuse for income tax evasion; no drug manufacturer would argue to the FDA, "My workers aren't used to running the new safety checks, so I didn't want to push them on it."

Employer obligations under Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act are just as stringent and just as clear-cut. If a man applies for a job, is qualified for that job, and is rejected because of his skin tone, or accent, or background, the law has been broken and the employer is culpable.

There is an undeniable possibility that minority employes may not be warmly welcomed into the company bowling league or be the hit of the office Christmas party.

But unless a man was hired as social director, his business ability should stand independent of his supposed social acceptability. Neither skin color nor place of origin determine a worker's productivity — and neither should be factors in the employment decision.

The EEOC, and the federal law, do not seek extraordinary consideration for the minority candidate, but they do demand the elimination of extraordinary barriers.

THE AVERAGE WHITE APPLICANT is not required to guarantee his social prowess; he is simply expected to demonstrate his capability and effectiveness on the job. Companies should demand no less from their minority applicants; they should be restrained by conscience, as they are by law, from demanding more.

The visibly heightened interest industry now shows in the bright young Negro college graduate has created the illusion that minority job opportunity is wide open. Regardless of overall personnel policies, employers are seeking out the exceptionally qualified minority candidate — the one with the Harvard B.A. or the man who is first in his class at Howard.

We must keep in mind, however, that the white Phi Beta Kappa is also being hotly pursued. In fact, all that has expanded is industry's awareness that the black superman is as much an asset to a firm as the white superman and that both are scarce commodities. But for every superman a firm hires, it also takes on hundreds of average people to fill average jobs.

Until every employer recognizes that the mediocre black man can perform routine tasks as well as the mediocre white man, until he acknowledges that fact by recruiting, hiring, and promoting minority workers of average skill to meet his average needs, millions of minority candidates will remain excluded from industry or trapped in dead-end jobs.

AN EMPLOYER'S WILLINGNESS to "make an exception" for the exceptional minority candidate, his recruiting bulletins proclaiming equal job opportunity on every level, cannot change the distorted pattern of minority employment which characterizes so much of American industry.

For by now the minority candidate, steadily confronted with industry's slogans of exclusion, has finally gotten the message.

He will only apply to those few companies and for those few positions where his acceptance seems a feasible possibility. To counteract potential racist rejections, he "rejects" industry to go into teaching, government, medicine or other professional occupations.

The EEOC hearings in New York City earlier this year produced testimony from major white collar employers that they were willing and eager to hire minority candidates but never seem to see any. We suggested to them that they better go out looking, just as they do for majority candidates.

The company truly committed to equal employment opportunity must realize by now that a positive effort is needed. Only active recruitment will stimulate the minority application; only visible proof that minority opportunity exists will shake his well-founded belief to the contrary.

No Negro professional is likely to apply to a firm which is unable to produce a Negro secretary. Few Spanish-surnamed Americans will be encouraged to pursue careers in a firm where they meet only "Anglo" faces — from the personnel office to the newspaper advertisement.

Industry's passive insistence that opportunity is there for the taking is a simple evasion — or deliberate misrepresentation. At this point of crisis in the minority community and in our entire society, we can afford neither.

Business self-righteousness must be translated into honest and active concern. American industry, famous for its energy and creativity, surely has the competence to tackle this pressing problem. It needs the will!

House Of Lords

There are two classes of Americans who have very considerable admiration for the way the British govern themselves.

There are those people who deplore the lack of distinction in American public and official life. They are always boundlessly excited about what they read about the royal family and the titled nobility of the mother country.

Families of wealth over here, who may in our domestic affairs profess deep concern for our poor and underprivileged, love to know and have associations, often marital, with titled Englishmen. The Kennedys have greatly prized such associations ever since father Joseph served at the Court of St. James.

THE OTHER GROUP consists of serious students of government. They see quite clearly that the British cabinet—parliamentary government—is more flexible and even more representative than our own unwieldly system.

Both of those groups may have had serious apprehensions about the recent controversy between Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government and the House of Lords over sanctions abainst Rhodesia. Anything like a further drastic restraint upon the balance between the popularly elected House of Commons and the House of Lords causes near panic over here.

For whatever may be our dedication to pure democracy, we all harbor some reverence for the rule of the "best." And Britain is the best and last of the countries where constitutional custom observes some reverence for the forms and customs of the past.

What has recently happened is that the United Nations, heavily overbalanced in favor it its black, brown and yellow members, has decreed stronger measures of coercion against the government of Rhodesia. And the British government under Wilson issued orders implementing those sanctions. The House of Commons approved the orders, but in a close vote—193 to 184—the Lords imposed a veto.

Wilson huffed and puffed and made vague threats. Many of his more radical followers called for constitutional changes which would either limit the veto power of the Lords more drastically or would eliminate the House of Lords entirely as a legislative body.

But it is quite certain that, despite his habit of acting in the wrong way at the wrong time, Wilson is not likely to invite any constitutional crisis. For these reasons:

Wilson does not want a dissolution and a general election now or in the foreseeable future. For the indications are that Labor's popular support has been drifting away to such an extent that a new election might well result in a Conservative government.

Sanctions against Rhodesia are not popular with the British voters. Their common sense tells them that the sanctions so far have probably hurt the British more than the Rhodesians.

The vote margin in the House of Lords was so small that in another test the Wilson orders might well be sustained.

Wilson realizes that the veto power of the House of Lords is his best means of restraining his more radical supporters.

Despite the proletarian talk of British socialists, there is under their skins a basic reverence for titles of nobility.

AND BRITISH GOVERNMENTS, Tory or Socialist, find that "elevation" to the House of Lords is a very convenient means of ridding themselves of cabinet members who have either outlived their usefulness or have made a mess of their assignments. Membership in the House of Lords is a dignified way of retiring people from public life.

And, finally, the veto power of the House of Lords has been so reduced since Lloyd George's reforms of 1911 that it now affords only a slight delaying and restraining influence upon ill-considered and hasty action in the Commons. At best it can only hold over the final approval of legislation for a year or less. And, as anyone knows, such a restraint is essential to orderly government.

So there is not likely to be any real constitutional change. The Lords will live and in their small way, despite taxes, prosper.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal Church held a farewell for the Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Secrest and welcomed the Rev. and Mrs. Dwight Heaston.

Miss Helen McSweeney of Main St., Wellsville, left for New York City to begin a six-week summer course at Columbia University.

Norman Lanning was installed as noble grand of East Liverpool Odd Fellows Lodge 379.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. John O. Davis of Chester left for a vacation near Hastings, Canada.

The 15th annual Wilson family reunion was held at Thompson Park.

Jack Nightingale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nightingale of Hammondsville, re-enlisted in the Army while serving in Augsburg, Germany, and was promoted to technician fourth grade.

TEN YEARS AGO — A teen-age Canasta Club held its first meeting at the home of Donna Springer of Harvey Ave. Peggy Crytzer was elected president.

An estimated 425 paid tribute to Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, Democratic county chairman and a member of the Election Board, at a testimonial dinner.

The first U. S. presidential mansion was at No. 1 Cherry St., the Franklin House, in New York City, occupied by President and Mrs. George Washington from 1789 to 1790.

There are two classes of Americans who have very considerable admiration for the way the British govern themselves.

There are those people who deplore the lack of distinction in American public and official life. They are always boundlessly excited about what they read about the royal family and the titled nobility of the mother country.

Families of wealth over here, who may in our domestic affairs profess deep concern for our poor and underprivileged, love to know and have associations, often marital, with titled Englishmen. The Kennedys have greatly prized such associations ever since father Joseph served at the Court of St. James.

THE OTHER GROUP consists of serious students of government. They see quite clearly that the British cabinet—parliamentary government—is more flexible and even more represenative than our own unwieldly system.

Both of those groups may have had serious apprehensions about the recent controversy between Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government and the House of Lords over sanctions abainst Rhodesia. Anything like a further drastic restraint upon the balance between the popularly elected House of Commons and the House of Lords causes near panic over here.

For whatever may be our dedication to pure democracy, we all harbor some reverence for the rule of the "best." And Britain is the best and last of the countries where constitutional custom observes some reverence for the forms and customs of the past.

What has recently happened is that the United Nations, heavily overbalanced in favor it its black, brown and yellow members, has decreed stronger measures of coercion against the government of Rhodesia. And the British government under Wilson issued orders implementing those sanctions. The House of Commons approved the orders, but in a close vote—193 to 184—the Lords imposed a veto.

Wilson huffed and puffed and made vague threats. Many of his more radical followers called for constitutional changes which would either limit the veto power of the Lords more drastically or would eliminate the House of Lords entirely as a legislative body.

But it is quite certain that, despite his habit of acting in the wrong way at the wrong time, Wilson is not likely to invite any constitutional crisis. For these reasons:

Wilson does not want a dissolution and a general election now or in the foreseeable future. For the indications are that Labor's popular support has been drifting away to such an extent that a new election might well result in a Conservative government.

Sanctions against Rhodesia are not popular with the British voters. Their common sense tells them that the sanctions so far have probably hurt the British more than the Rhodesians.

The vote margin in the House of Lords was so small that in another test the Wilson orders might well be sustained.

Wilson realizes that the veto power of the House of Lords is his best means of restraining his more radical supporters.

Despite the proletarian talk of British socialists, there is under their skins a basic reverence for titles of nobility.

AND BRITISH GOVERNMENTS, Tory or Socialist, find that "elevation" to the House of Lords is a very convenient means of ridding themselves of cabinet members who have either outlived their usefulness or have made a mess of their assignments. Membership in the House of Lords is a dignified way of retiring people from public life.

And, finally, the veto power of the House of Lords has been so reduced since Lloyd George's reforms of 1911 that it now affords only a slight delaying and restraining influence upon ill-considered and hasty action in the Commons. At best it can only hold over the final approval of legislation for a year or less. And, as anyone knows, such a restraint is essential to orderly government.

So there is not likely to be any real constitutional change. The Lords will live and in their small way, despite taxes, prosper.

Crackdown On Speeding

13 Drivers Pay Penalties In Holiday Radar Arrests

Thirteen motorists cited over the weekend by police radar teams were penalized today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on speeding charges.

Most of the citations were issued Wednesday night and Thursday on the Freeway and W. 8th St., two of the city's most heavily traveled arteries. Ten of the drivers paid $17.50 in forfeits or in fines and costs, while three others paid fines ranging from $15 to $20 and costs.

The $17.50 forfeits were paid by: Stanley Gregory of Canton, Carmen Barba of Youngstown, Philip P. Irwin Jr. of RD 3, Jeffrey Sherman of Pittsburgh, Kerry Schwab of Erie, Pa., William Carpenter of Detroit, Sophia Brozic of Canton, Lewis G. VanDyne of LaCroft and Edward Majors of Rochester, Pa.

Judith Blosser of 2230 Pennsylvania Ave. paid a fine of $10 and costs for speeding 45 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St. She was cited Wednesday.

Sally Ann Moore of RD 1, charged with speeding 72 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway Wednesday, was fined $15 and costs. William Wright of 1235 Main St., Wellsville, paid a fine of $20 and costs after pleading guilty to speeding 70 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St. Wednesday.

George Baier of Youngstown forfeited $17.50 on a charge of driving the wrong way in a one-way section of Persimmon Alley. He was cited Wednesday.

In other cases today, Roberta Pauline Foster of 1238 Croft St. paid fines of $10 and costs on each of two charges — use of indecent language and profanity and intoxication. She was arrested Thursday night at 9:30 at City Hall.

Leo Rafferty of East Palestine, arrested early today, was fined $100 and costs on a state intoxication charge. He was remanded to County Jail in default of payment.

George Scurlock of Wellston, arrested Thursday on an intoxication charge, was fined $25 and costs and remanded to city jail in lieu of payment. The court issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Izetta Williams of 1537 Main St., Wellsville, who failed to appear on a charge of driving 62 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway Thursday.

CORE Group Undecided On Director

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the 26th annual convention of the Congress of Racial Equality remained confused today over who will be their new national director.

Roy Innis, considered the most likely to succeed fiery civil rights lawyer Floyd B. McKissick as national director, ran into increased opposition as the convention entered its fourth day.

McKissick, at a testimonial dinner Thursday in his behalf, told about 300 persons that he "might come back" after a slipped spinal disc is corrected.

"I might just step aside for a little while," he said, "But it would make too many white people happy if I leave." McKissick, 46, has been director since 1965.

He is credited with reducing by almost half a reported CORE indebtedness of $400,000 since taking over from James Farmer.

While McKissick has not revealed his plans, it is unlikely that he will return to the $16,500-a-year director's post. The real dispute, according to sources within the tight-lipped organization, is over his successor.

Innis, 34, the associate national director, automatically becomes acting director Monday, the day after the convention ends.

The bid to make him permanent director is being fought by some CORE members who resent reports that Innis endorsed former vice president Richard M. Nixon for president. Innis has denied the report repeatedly.

About a dozen CORE members came to the banquet hall Thursday with pictures of Nixon, apparently to hold a pseudo Nixon rally to embarrass Innis. The "rally" did not materialize.

$350 In Fines Given Driver

A man whose auto hit a utility pole on Mulberry St. early Thursday paid fines totaling $350 and costs today in Municipal Court on two charges.

Robert Salsberry, 43, of W. 7th St. was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol and another $100 and costs on a charge of operating an anto while his license was under revocation.

The court decreed a five-day jail term on the second charge, but said the two sentences will run concurrently.

Meanwhile, Daniel Offutt of Indianapolis was fined $100 and costs on a charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated.

Offutt was cited Thursday at 12:26 a. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon.

Dillon testified he was dispatched to investigate a complaint a parked car was blocking the driveway at the Valley Trailer Court. He said he found Offutt asleep underneath the steering wheel, with the motor of the car running and the headlights on.

The foundation of modern medicine was laid by William Harvey's discovery that blood circulates through the body.

NEA Files Protest On Bar Incident

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The National Education Association has filed a protest with the State Department and has asked for a probe by the Justice Department because an African nation's official said he was refused service in a Dallas bar.

The incident took place near the Municipal Auditorium where about 8,000 NEA members are holding a national convention.

A guest of the convention, Mooki Vitus Molapo, first secretary of the Embassy of Lesotho, said he was refused service because he is black.

Malapo quoted a waitress in the place as saying, "Can't you see that you're black? We don't serve blacks in here."

Sam M. Lambert, NEA executive secretary, asked the State Department to make an official apology to Molapo's ambassador in Washington.

Dallas officials, to whom the NEA also complained, said they were investigating the incident.

An employe of the bar said it has always refused to serve Negroes on the premises.

LIVER

Q. How often should liver be served?

A. Some years ago liver was considered a "protective" food since it is a good source of protein, vitamin A, iron, and the B vitamins. Now, with the great variety of foods abundantly available throughout the year, belief in the essentiality of so-called "protective foods" has greatly diminished. Proper selection from the variety of nutritious foods available is now advised. If you like liver, serve it as often as you would other meat.

MEAT SUBSTITUTE

Q. Is there any food that is a true substitute for meat? Is it possible to live on a meatless diet and still obtain the nutrients necessary for good health?

A. Yes, it is possible to obtain all the nutrients for health without including meat in the diet. However, careful planning is necessary if some animal proteins are not included such as those in milk, eggs, cheese and fish, as well as vegetable protein in nuts, dry beans, and peas.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity, brief and general in nature and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians.

Lawyer Set To Defend James Ray

LONDON (AP) — Arthur J. Hanes, the Birmingham, Ala., lawyer retained to defend the accused assassin of Martin Luther King Jr., arrived in London today and said he would have a first meeting with him within hours.

But Hanes insisted the man he would be seeing was Ramon George Sneyd, not James Earl Ray as claimed by the U.S. government and accepted by the British court which agreed to extradite him last Tuesday.

Hanes said his client might plead innocent or innocent by reason of insanity to charges brought against him.

He added: "Of course, he may not be extradited. I am not certain that he will be."

Regardingt he identity of the man wanted in the slaying of King, Hanes said: "He is Ramon George Sneyd as far as I am concerned. This man has identified himself as such. I am saying that the U.S. government and the authorities of Tennessee have the burden to prove otherwise.

"It will have no bearing in Tennessee that the British courts say he is James Earl Ray."

King was assassinated April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., and a worldwide manhunt began for James Earl Ray.

Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8 by Scotland Yard agents and accused of using a forged Canadian passport in the name of Sneyd and possessing an unlicensed gun. Those charges are still pending.

After a two-day hearing at Bow Street Court, London's chief metropolitan magistrate, Frank Milton, ordered Ray extradited as a fugitive criminal wanted for murder and armed robbery in the United States.

Ray's court-appointed British lawyers have 15 days in which to appeal to a higher court. They said they intend to file an appeal.

Woman Shot During Struggle Over Gun

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 20-year-old east side woman was accidentally shot to death Thursday when a mother struggled to take a shotgun away from her 2-year-old son.

Killed was Carol Ann Butler. The incident occurred during a party at the home of William Latten, 21. The gun belonged to Latten's roommate, Essex L. Alexander, 29, who told officers he kept it in the home for protection.

Return Order Rejected

Wildcat Transit Strike Idles Busses At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Chicagoans returned from their Fourth of July holiday to cope with the fourth day of a wildcat strike by more than 1,000 bus drvers and motormen.

Leaders of the walkout against the Chicago Transit Authority met secretly with top union officials Thursday and were told to order their fellow dissidents back to work.

The union said it would act on their complaints only when the strike ended. The demand was rejected by the strikers.

CTA Chairman George L. Dement said Thursday night he was "kind of discouraged" at receiving no word of progress in resolving the dispute which interrupted service for some 600,000 commuters Wednesday.

Dement said service for the holiday operated at about 75 per cent. But he predicted today's transit problems would be as great as Wednesday.

"More and more drivers say they don't want to take buses," Dement said.

A CTA spokesman reported half a dozen instances where strikers boarded buses and convinced drivers to return immediately to terminals. Most of these occurred on the North Side, an area largely unaffected by the walkout that began Tuesday on the South and West sides.

James J. Hill, president of Division 241 of the Amalgamated Transit Workers, and six members of the striking faction, the Concerned Transit Workers, met for 30 minutes in the union headquarters Thursday.

Some 200 of the dissidents met later in a South Side church and announced following the meeting that the strike will continue.

CTA officials have estimated that 1.15-million persons use the bus and subway trains each day. Although only bus drivers were involved in the walkout at first, they were joined by dozens of subway and elevated train motormen Wednesday.

The walkout stemmed from a demand by Negro bus drivers for representation among the officers of the union. Negro drivers number more than half of the union's 8,340 members but there are no Negro officers.

Chancellor Testifies In Nazis Trial

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger says he felt "something not quite right" was happening to the Jews in Nazi Germany near the end of World War II.

"But it was not until after the war that I got to know about the whole magnitude of this operation," the former deputy head of the radio propaganda department in the Third Riech Foreign Ministry told a war crimes trial judge Thursday.

Kiesinger said at first he had discounted allied charges about Nazi mass extermination of Jews as "nothing but atrocity propaganda."

"It was simply inconceivable to me that such terrible things were happening," he said.

Kiesinger was summoned as a witness in the trial of two Third Reich diplomats, Adolf Beckerle and Frizt Gebhard von Hahn. It was the first time a West German government chief had appeared before a trial court, and the court came specially from Frankfort to take his testimony.

Beckerle, Hitler's onetime ambassador to Bulgaria, is charged with the deportation and assistance in the murder of 11,343 Jews. Von Hahn, his former assistant, is accused of complicity.

Wildcat Transit Strike Idles Busses At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Chicagoans returned from their Fourth of July holiday to cope with the fourth day of a wildcat strike by more than 1,000 bus drvers and motormen.

Leaders of the walkout against the Chicago Transit Authority met secretly with top union officials Thursday and were told to order their fellow dissidents back to work.

Lawyer Set To Defend James Ray

LONDON (AP) — Arthur J. Hanes, the Birmingham, Ala., lawyer retained to defend the accused assassin of Martin Luther King Jr., arrived in London today and said he would have a first meeting with him within hours.

But Hanes insisted the man he would be seeing was Ramon George Sneyd, not James Earl Ray as claimed by the U.S. government and accepted by the British court which agreed to extradite him last Tuesday.

Hanes said his client might plead innocent or innocent by reason of insanity to charges brought against him.

He added: "Of course, he may not be extradited. I am not certain that he will be."

Regardingt he identity of the man wanted in the slaying of King, Hanes said: "He is Ramon George Sneyd as far as I am concerned. This man has identified himself as such. I am saying that the U.S. government and the authorities of Tennessee have the burden to prove otherwise.

"It will have no bearing in Tennessee that the British courts say he is James Earl Ray."

King was assassinated April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., and a worldwide manhunt began for James Earl Ray.

Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8 by Scotland Yard agents and accused of using a forged Canadian passport in the name of Sneyd and possessing an unlicensed gun. Those charges are still pending.

After a two-day hearing at Bow Street Court, London's chief metropolitan magistrate, Frank Milton, ordered Ray extradited as a fugitive criminal wanted for murder and armed robbery in the United States.

Ray's court-appointed British lawyers have 15 days in which to appeal to a higher court. They said they intend to file an appeal.

Many Cities Study Gun Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several of the nation's biggest cities have gun control laws and more cities and towns are considering them. But advocates of local laws are quick to point out they cannot be fully effective without interstate sales restrictions.

The city council of Washington this week gave tentative approval to an ordinance requiring licensing of pistols, rifles and shotguns and permits for carrying them.

It is similar to one recommended by the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments which includes 15 cities and counties.

Several cities, including New Haven, Conn. and San Antonio, Tex., have indicated their interest in city gun laws, the National League of Cities says. It notes that New York, Chicago and Philadelphia already have enacted strict gun control laws. One has been proposed in St. Louis.

The league has started working on a model gun control ordinance and plans to meet with state attorneys general to draft complementary state and local laws.

The executive committee of the league last May called for federal regulations to keep firearms out of the hands of those likely to misuse them.

It said that local ordinances were relatively ineffective "because of the ease with which firearms may be acquired in other jurisdictions and through the mails."

The omnibus crime control bill signed recently by President Johnson bans mail order sales of pistols. Both the House and Senate Judiciary committees have before them bills that would ban the mail order sales of rifles and shotguns.

LBJ Wants Stiffer Control

The President also has asked for a law requiring registration of weapons and licensing of owners. The question of whether this proposal should be tacked onto the long-gun measure was considered by the Senate Judiciary Committee last Thursday, but the committee postponed any action until next week.

Statistics on the effectiveness of city ordinances are meager, and there are arguments about the figures that are available.

In the case of the Philadelphia law, enacted in 1965, the March issue of the magazine of the league, "Nation's Cities," said: "Although there's no available statistical data to indicate that the law has reduced gun-related crime, a Philadelphia police spokesman said he felt it has helped and "has kept guns out of the hands of irresponsibles."

The annual uniform crime report of the FBI lists homicides in the major metropolitan areas and the rate per 100,000 persons but does not say what percentage of the homicides in each city was by guns.

New York City, under a strict state regulation on hand guns, also has a new local law requiring registration of rifles and shotguns.

In testimony before Congress recently, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York said that of 746 murders in his city last year, 235, or less than one-third, were committed with firearms.

In its latest figures, for 1966, the FBI said 60 per cent of the murders in the United States was by firearms.

Also in testimony before Congress, Harold W. Glassen, president of the National Rifle Association of America, said that in 1966, 2.85 per cent of all serious crime, including robberies, in New York City was committed with the aid of firearms. Unlicensed handguns, he said, accounted for 87.16 per cent of the firearms crimes. This is proof, he said, that criminals will not abide by the law.

Patterson Hit By Additional Disturbances

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A third night of disorders subsided following a short rain today after rock-throwing and window-smashing spread outside the Puerto Rican section.

Police reported that 24 persons, all adults, had been arrested Thursday night and today, bringing the total for the three days to 54. They were charged with varied counts of resisting arrest, malicious mischief and loitering.

Three Paterson hospitals reported treating about three dozen injured persons. Many of the injured, however, did not report to hospitals. Some 20 persons were injured, including several policemen, in the previous nights of violence.

Helmeted police displayed shotguns in a show of strength, but no shooting was reported Thursday night. There had been one report of shooting by police early Thursday to discourage youths throwing missiles from rooftops.

Police used tear gas to break up large crowds. "The tear gas is very effective," Deputy Police Chief Angelo Esposito said.

Broken glass, bottles, bricks and rocks littered the streets of the Puerto Rican section just east of the downtown area of this industrial city. Many cars parked on the streets were heavily damaged.

Since Monday night youths, sometimes as many as 600 strong, took to the streets in both peaceful and violent demonstrations in protest of what they claimed was excessive force by police in making arrests.

About 18,000 of the city's 146,000 residents are Puerto Rican. The Negro population is about 30,000.

Thoughts Of Childhood

Memory's A Soft Liar

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone over 30 who has trouble falling asleep at night usually turns his restless thoughts back to his childhood.

He remembers it with a vague sense of loss, as mankind remembers lost Eden—with a pang.

Most people like to recall their childhood as a happy time, and their minds obligingly turn away from the woes they knew when very young.

But was anyone's childhood ever as happy when he lived it as he later in life prefers to recall it to have been? No, indeed. In this respect memory is a soft liar.

The secret heart of any child is hardly bathed in constant self-smile. He approves of himself far less than the grownups around him do, for he never is quite as innocent as they think him to be.

They tend to regard him as either a perfect angel or a little devil, depending on the day or what they know about his conduct at the moment. But the child himself is haunted by the knowledge that he is never a perfect angel, although he may for fleeting seconds wistfully yearn to be one.

Every child is troubled by hidden guilt, which comes early to the human race. He always has done something wrong which his parents haven't yet found out, and so he feels like an uncaught criminal always in peril of being discovered and punished.

This self-knowledge of guilt and fear of retribution is the sword of Damocles that hangs in the soul of every child. It keeps him uneasy, no matter how small his transgression may be, and shuts him from the paradise in which his deluded parents thinks he dwells.

Well, then, since children are actually hypocritical little worry-warts, just like grownups, what is there truly about childhood that makes adults look back upon it with such fondness? Wherein lies its real magic?

The real magic of childhood lies in the fact that it is the only period of existence when you look at life as if you were seeing it through a magnifying glass. Everything is bigger, closer up, and more emotionally affecting. Everthing is sharply accented.

Your thoughts are more fanciful and exciting; your sensations are more thrilling; you feel more keenly and deeply alive than you ever will again.

Slowly as we go through life, cobwebs accumulate on all these feelings. We see through the magnifying glass no more. The monsters become less fearsome, the joys less stirring. We tend to turn from live sparks to dull clods, more moved by threnody than thrill.

That is what we miss most about our vanished childhood—that view through the magnifying glass, that bonfire rapture of being which, when it goes, comes not again.

On S. Beaver just north of the creek, the concussion knocked a light off the ceiling. The Erie - Lackawanna freight station just west of the hoist plant had six windows broken.

Four upstairs windows were broken in the Landmark Building and a ¾-foot window was cracked at Gregg Ramsey's Welding shop next door. Gene Courtney of Damascus, manager of Landmark, was notified by police and spent the night boarding up the openings.

Ten windows were broken at the Robert Peterson residence on S. Beaver St. while the family was away, three at the old Lisbon Salesbook Co. and one in a house used as a Sunday School annex by the First Christian Church. There were reports of broken windows at at least six more homes in the Beaver, Washington, Maple Sts. district.

Police said the explosions are an annual occurance, but have never been this severe. Townspeople speak of "a cannon." The first complaint at midnight came from an E. Washington St. woman who reported two windows broken. She said she did not want to file any charges.

There were a few complaints of illegal firecrackers yesterday but everything was quiet when police arrived in the neighborhoods.

Police said they had a burglary report from a Mrs. Whittington of 248 W. Washington St. yesterday, but believe the broken window there also was caused by the explosions. They said broken glass was on the ground outside the house. Nothing was missing.

SOLICITOR J. Michael Kapp said the legislation providing for the retroactive boost will be presented to Council at its next regular meeting Monday.

Union members had continued to operate the water department pumping and filtration plants, despite the strike.

The sewage treatment plant workers went back to their regular jobs late Wednesday night, Kapp said. The plant had been unmanned since June 29 and raw sewage had been allowed to flow directly into the Ohio River.

"Meter Maids" also had been off duty since the general walkout started. They went back to checking parking violations this morning.

The riverfront had been posted with signs warning that the waters were "unsafe for recreational use." But Ben Weber, acting health commissioner, declared the waters safe again, effective at noon yesterday.

U.S. Reds Selecting Candidates

Speaking Thursday to some 300 delegates to the American Communist party convention, Hall denounced the new left for "petty bourgeois radicalism."

The delegates are meeting to pick the first Communist presidential ticket since 1940, when Earl Browder was the party's candidate.

The general secretary spoke for 105 minutes. The speech was closed to newsmen, but excerpts were handed out later.

Hall said the country is being engulfed by a new wave represented by the "grass roots electoral revolt." He claimed the revolt had "swept Johnson out of the presidential race."

Narcotic Agents Concerned About 'Artificial' Drug

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal narcotics agents are concerned about the possible appearance of man-made marijuana which is colorless and odorless but so powerful only two or three drops in a cigarette can produce the same kick as natural marijuana, the Washington Post said today.

"Smuggling in synthetic marijuana could make the $350 million a year heroin business look like peanuts," the paper quoted a narcotics agent as saying.

"And it would be easy," he added. "A little alcohol and some coloring and it could be brought in as after-shave lotion."

The Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs plans to send Congress fresh legislation to cover the sale and use of marijuana made in a laboratory, the Post said. Currently, federal law covers only natural marijuana which is grown.

Federal officials say marijuana was first made synthetically four years ago by an Israeli chemist. They say it is still extremely expensive to produce, the major factor that has kept it from the illegal drug market.

Federal officials fear, however, that the price is bound to come down as more chemists tinker with it.

SOLICITOR J. Michael Kapp said the legislation providing for the retroactive boost will be presented to Council at its next regular meeting Monday.

Union members had continued to operate the water department pumping and filtration plants, despite the strike.

The sewage treatment plant workers went back to their regular jobs late Wednesday night, Kapp said. The plant had been unmanned since June 29 and raw sewage had been allowed to flow directly into the Ohio River.

"Meter Maids" also had been off duty since the general walkout started. They went back to checking parking violations this morning.

The riverfront had been posted with signs warning that the waters were "unsafe for recreational use." But Ben Weber, acting health commissioner, declared the waters safe again, effective at noon yesterday.

U.S. Reds Selecting Candidates

Speaking Thursday to some 300 delegates to the American Communist party convention, Hall denounced the new left for "petty bourgeois radicalism."

The delegates are meeting to pick the first Communist presidential ticket since 1940, when Earl Browder was the party's candidate.

The general secretary spoke for 105 minutes. The speech was closed to newsmen, but excerpts were handed out later.

Hall said the country is being engulfed by a new wave represented by the "grass roots electoral revolt." He claimed the revolt had "swept Johnson out of the presidential race."

Young Motorist Cited In Summitville Case

SUMMITVILLE — A Kensington youth was cited by Marshal Forrest Young following a two-car mishap here Thursday at 12:10 p. m.

Both cars were damaged heavily, Young reported.

Narcotic Agents Concerned About 'Artificial' Drug

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal narcotics agents are concerned about the possible appearance of man-made marijuana which is colorless and odorless but so powerful only two or three drops in a cigarette can produce the same kick as natural marijuana, the Washington Post said today.

"Smuggling in synthetic marijuana could make the $350 million a year heroin business look like peanuts," the paper quoted a narcotics agent as saying.

"And it would be easy," he added. "A little alcohol and some coloring and it could be brought in as after-shave lotion."

The Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs plans to send Congress fresh legislation to cover the sale and use of marijuana made in a laboratory, the Post said. Currently, federal law covers only natural marijuana which is grown.

Federal officials say marijuana was first made synthetically four years ago by an Israeli chemist. They say it is still extremely expensive to produce, the major factor that has kept it from the illegal drug market.

Federal officials fear, however, that the price is bound to come down as more chemists tinker with it.

Nasser Appears Ready To Accept Peace Force

Senior diplomats say Egypt has offered to take back a United Nations peacekeeping force on its soil as part of an Arab-Israeli settlement, but meanwhile a boost in Egyptian military spending was reported in Cairo.

Diplomats in London said the readiness of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to restore a U.N. peace force under some guaranteed form of tenure has been conveyed to the mission of U.N. envoy Gunnar Jaring.

It was deemed a hopeful development because Nasser's expulsion of U.N. troops was a major factor in the train of events that led to the six-day Middle East war of June 1967.

Efforts toward a settlement have been stymied by Israel's refusal to give back captured Arab lands without direct negotiations with the Arabs, and the Arabs' refusal to meet face-to-face with the Israelis. The United Nations has called for Israel to withdraw from captured territory and for the Arabs to end their belligerency toward Israel.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told newsmen Thursday prospects for progress in the Middle East seem better.

One encouraging development, he said, was a statement attributed to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad that "we recognize realites and Israel is one of them. Now we want peace."

But the Egyptian government, in announcing a $4.6-billion budget Thursday, said it was geared mainly to "sacrifices to enhance military expenditure and to liberate Arab lands occupied by Israel."

No defense figures were disclosed, but semiofficial source said this year's defense appropriation is the highest in Egyptian history.

A special $293.25-million emergency fund was created to consolidate the armed forces and popular resistance against the Israeli occupation of the Egyptian Sinai peninsula and the east bank of the Suez Canal.

The fund would be raised largely as contributions from Arab oil states, donations from private citizens and a civil defense tax.

Nasser confered for the second day today with Soviet leaders in Moscow, and observers said that the visit could provide a chance for Egypt and its Soviet patron to weigh any new efforts to end the Middle East stalemate.

However, it was understood Nasser also would ask for more Russian arms and aid.

He told Racine County authorities the plane would be dismantled and removed.

MECHANICSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Recent rioting in American cities was by "riff-raff who have no regard for any society," Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said Thursday in a speech at his hometown's Independence Day celebration.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign has attempted another beachhead on the Capitol.

The demonstrators hitched up their mule train for its second visit to Washington Thursday and headed for the Capitol to stage a watermelon picnic.

Twenty-three of the campaigners, including 12 children, were arrested after they climbed down from the old farm wagons, crossed a police line at the Capitol and began eating melon. They were charged with littering and unlawful assembly.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican who played a key role in imposing $6 billion in spending cuts on the administration suggests federal payrolls as a good place to start.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior GOP member of the Senate Finance Committee, said Thursday further savings would result if public works expenditures were held down and some of the U.S. troops in Europe brought home.

The trouble started about 10:30 p.m. after a Fourth of July fireworks display at a city park. One hour after the initial outbreak, police set up a command post near the trouble area.

The firebombing occurred as the crowd split in two directions, tying up traffic for several blocks.

Glass littered the streets in the areas as some of the youths in the crowd swung boards at the headlights and windows of the cars.

Windows in a number of houses in the area were broken.

A spokesman at General Hospital said 13 persons were treated for minor injuries.

The trouble came about 24 hours after demonstrators clashed with police and with a crowd gathered to hear former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in downtown Minneapoljs Wednesday night.

Six Are Injured In Area Mishaps

Six were injured — three seriously — in two of four county road mishaps investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Wednesday and Thursday.

"Fair" at City Hospital is Beulah Peters, 64, of Ravenna, a passenger in a 1966 sedan which crashed near West Point Wednesday at 8:35 p.m. She suffered injuries of the forehead, chest and left shoulder.

"Fairly good" is her husband, Raymond Peters, 70 also a passenger in the sedan, contusions of the forehead, left wrist and left shoulder.

ALSO TREATED as the result of the mishap were Mrs. Theresa DeVries of Statten Island, N. Y., 49, also a passenger in the sedan, contusions and abrasions of the right arm, contusions of the forehead and possible neck injuries, and Cecellia Bullard, 54, of Port Charlotte, Fla., driver of the auto, laceration of the mouth, contusions of the right hip and bruises of the right elbow.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred on Route 30, about a mile east of Route 45, when the Bullard car went out of control as it struck a dirt hump on the roadway near a road construction site.

The eastbound sedan then went off the right side of the road, struck a guardrail and continued over an embankment, overturning and landing upright.

The car was demolished, officers said.

In "fair" condition at South Side Hospital, Youngstown, is William Thornhill Jr., 18, of Lisbon RD 2, with a compound fracture of the left leg suffered in a car - motorcycle mishap near Guilford Lake Thursday.

—:—

THORNHILL was a passenger on a 1968 model bike driven by Edward D. Copeland, 28, of Lisbon RD 1, who was treated at Salem City Hospital for injuries to the left elbow, side knee and foot.

Thornhill was admitted to Salem City Hospital, then transferred to South Side.

Officers said the mishap took place on Route 172 about four miles west of Route 30 at 10:55 p.m. when a 1956 sedan, operated by Joseph Bendeckgey, 51, of Canton, failed to round a left curve, went off the right side of the roadway then recrossed to the left side where it collided with the eastbound motorcycle.

Bendeckgey was cited by the patrol for speeding.

A Washingtonville youth was cited by the patrol as the aftermath of a two - car collision Thursday on County Rd. 410, about three miles south of Salem.

David D. Elliott, 16, was charged with speeding after his 1963 coach went out of control as he attempted to avoid a 1964 coach slowing on the roadway ahead yesterday at 1:20 p.m.

Elliott told officers his car was southbound, crested a hill and veered off the east side of the roadway as he applied his brakes upon sighting the coach operated by Brian Lee Conrad, 19, of Lisbon RD 4.

Both cars were damaged moderately, officers reported.

An area woman was cited following a two - car collision on Route 170, a mile east of Route 30 Thursday at 10:45 p.m.

Madeline L. Owens, 52, of RD 3, was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after her 1965 coach pulled from the berm of the road into the side of an eastbound 1963 sedan driven by Violet L. Jackson, 41, of 463 Virginia Ave.

Hancock Reports 3 Minor Mishaps

The Hancock County sheriff's office reported three minor accidents over the July 4 holiday, with no injuries.

At 2:25 p. m. Thursday at the entrance of Tomlinson Run State Park, Susan Roberta Ewing, 20, of New Cumberland pulled out of a parking area and struck the rear of a vehicle operated by Frank Peckins, 61 of Steubenville. There was no citation.

A two - car collision occurred at 6:30 p. m. in Newell at the intersection of Grant and 1st Sts. The cars were driven by Louis Anzelone, 31, of 315 Grant St. and Carole Ann Wurzel, 24, of Grant St. Both approached the intersection at the same time, applied their brakes but failed to stop in time and collided. Neither driver was cited.

Wednesday at 7 p.m. a car operated by William Fiscus, 31, of Massillon, ran into the rear of a car driven by Richard Ragazzine, 34, of Girard. Ragazine was forced to stop when a car had halted suddenly in front of him causing the collision near the stable gate entrance at Waterford Park. No arrest was made, deputies said.

Intruder Steals Car Tape Player

David Chaffin of 1034 Waterloo St. told police an intruder entered his parked car Thursday afternoon or evening and stole a tape player and five or six stereo tapes.

Chaffin said the 1967 model car was looted between 12:30 and 9:15 p. m. while parked on Dresden Ave. near Webber Way.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Flo Lockhart of 953 W. 8th St. told police a battery was stolen from her car while it was parked in Riverside Park Wednesday night about 10.

Mrs. Lockhart said she recognized a youth she saw removing the battery and related the story to her husband. He located the youth's car and retrieved the battery, indicating he would not file charges, officers said.

Meanwhile, Mrs. W. T. McGrew of 1644 Holliday St. told police a vandal tore the mailbox from the home of her neighbor, Donald Hull of 503 Oakland Ave., and hurled it onto the front porch. She said the damage occurred between 5 p. m. Wednesday and 9 a.m. Thursday.

Boy, 13, Injured By Own 'Bomb'

SALEM — A homemade noisemaker exploded early Thursday near East Rochester and wounded James Kirchner, 13, of Wheeling.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kirchner, he is in "good" condition today at Salem Central Clinic. Surgeons were to remove a metal fragment from his upper right leg today.

Sheriff's Deputy Kent Garvey investigated the accident after clinic personnel reported it at 8:14 a. m. yesterday.

The Kirchners are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers of 742 W. Wilson, Salem. Yesterday morning, the boy was riding with his father near East Rochester when the car developed trouble. While the father was making repairs, James apparently decided to set off a bomb — a five-inch-long metal tube with a half-inch opening into which he packed gunpowder he had made at home in Wheeling.

Drivers Being Robbed

Pittsburgh Studies New Transit Fare Collection

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bus and trolley operators are finding it difficult to keep their change.

Since January 1 there have been 64 robberies, mostly in the city's ghetto areas. Generally, the drivers have been unharmed, but the thieves usually take their personal cash as well as their fare collections.

Now the Port Authority Transit (PAT) is beginning to put together a new method of night time fare collection.

What the final result will be is not yet known. But it will likely be much like those used in Washington and Baltimore.

In the capital the "scrip" method is used. Change is given in scrip and the patron can cash the scrip in at designated places.

In Baltimore unless you have the correct fare, you don't ride the bus—unless you'll willing to put more in the box than the fare costs.

The PAT is studying both methods.

They say implementation of either one in Pittsburgh would trigger a reduction of passengers.

But, the authority would stand to gain a few dollars that people would drop in when they don't have change.

The PAT has its own internal police force. But they admit the situation is past their control. PAT's board of directors hopes for more protection from the city police department.

Another course of action could be the reduction of service in the areas where most of the muggings and robberies are committed.

FDA Clamp Down

Pitt University Assisting In Check Of Drug Plants

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is clamping down on the drug manufacturing process with the help of the University of Pittsburgh.

Under the FDA's new director, Dr. Herbert L. Ley, and spawned by the famed Thalidomide tragedy, the FDA has hired a group of college-trained men to inspect 250 drug plants throughout the nation.

Pitt's job has been to give the inspectors enough knowledge in two weeks to communicate with drug researchers and doctors, evaluate experimental designs and interpret conclusions from raw data.

Dr. Joseph P. Buckley, head of Pitt's department of pharmacology, said, "The government is really clamping down on the drug manufacturing process."

Some brands of drugs give more or less effectiveness than others even though marketed as the same product. Dr. Buckley said this is due to the way the drug is synthesized and manufactured.

"Just because an aspirin tablet contains five grains of salicylic acid, that doesn't mean it gives you the effectiveness of the full five grains," he said.

The Thalidomide tragedy occurred several years ago when a rash of deformed births around the world were blamed on a tranquilizer given to expectant mothers.

At Pitt the inspectors have learned how various drugs act on the body, why one drug is better than another in a given disease, and how side affects in humans can be determined from experimental data on animals.

Personalities In The News

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Julie Nixon says she and fiance David Eisenhower are going to wait until after the November election to make their wedding plans.

Julie, daughter of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, appeared with David at a news conference Thursday during a political visit.

David, grandson of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, scored a personal political first during the day by kissing a baby at a Republican rally in Hillsville.

LONDON (AP) — Louis Armstrong celebrated his 68th birthday Thursday by showing that the years haven't dulled the sound that made him famous.

Satchmo was honored at a luncheon given by Britain's Beaverbrook newspapers and proceeded to say "Thank you" by leading his all-stars in a swinging medley of "Hello, Dolly!" "Wonderful World" and "Sleepy Time Down South."

"My life has been all around music," said Armstrong. "I am rejoicing today."

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — "I've always wanted to go out and do one thing myself," said Richard Ault, 30, a producer of radio commercials, as he, his wife and their four-year-old daughter boarded a freighter for a lonely South Sea island.

The Aults plan to live for one year on the island of Suvarov, an uninhabited strip of land three quarters of a mile wide and a mile and a-half long.

Ault said the trip was just a matter of proving "we can go out and live, isolated, without any help from the outside world."

The family plans to pick up 15 chickens at a stop on Tahiti and plant a garden for vegetables.

Church Council Studying Youth Representation

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — The World Council of Churches assembly has formed a committee to study ways to give youth more representation in meetings and conferences.

The action was taken by assembly delegates Thursday following a minor protest incident.

Two youths picketed with a placard reading "silence" and were chased away by police. Another youth climbed a lamp post and was hauled down by watchful officers. The you people were apparently protesting lack of representation at the assembly.

Although the council has arranged for 150 church youths to attend they have no voting rights.

With Roman Catholic observers attending for the first time, the council assembly is the most widely representative gathering of Christians in history. It embraces 222 Protestant, Eastern Orthodox, Anglican and national Catholic denominations that have more than 350 million members in 80 nations.

The assembly opened with a posthumous plea for fulfillment of ecumenical efforts, contained in a 2,000-word unfinished report by the late Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry.

Rev. Fry died June 6 after 14 years as head of the WCC.

The report said improved relations between the council and the Roman Catholic Church were the "overtowering event" of the last seven years.

But it conceded that "thorny problems" had been encountered in relations betwten the council and Roman Catholics. It also said efforts to establish relations with evangelical groups had met with "meager results."

Vermont is the only New England state that was not part of the original 13 colonies.

Vietnam

"We're getting it (the weapons) at the base camps before it can be moved."

Maj. Gen. John J. Hay, commander of U.S. troops in the capital military district, has said the only way to prevent attacks on Saigon is to seize enemy weapons before they can be moved into firing position.

One of the latest discoveries was made by U.S. 1st Division infantrymen in a complex of five bunkers and 150 feet of tunnels 33 miles north of Saigon. The cache contained 110 bazooka-type rockets, seven rocket launchers, an 82mm mortar and 24 shells for it.

South Vietnamese infantrymen turned up a cache 180 miles northwest of Saigon which government spokesmen said contained five 100-pound Russian rockets of the type used to shell Saigon in recent weeks; 91 rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle shells and three recoiless rifle bazooka-type rockets.

Bunkers Booby-Trapped

About 30 miles northwest of Saigon, other 1st Division troops gingerly probed booby-trapped enemy bunkers where they already had found a cache of more than 35 of the big Russian 122mm rockets plus more than 1,000 bazooka-type rockets.

Enemy Thrown Back

The cache is only 10 miles from a big U.S. base at Dau Teng, which came under a 500-round rocket and mortar attack earlier Thursday. Cooks, clerks and drivers helped infantrymen repel enemy commandos in a 2½-hour battle at the base.

Two other rocket caches were seized six miles east of Saigon Wednesday and Thursday. These included both 122mm rockets and Chinese 107mm rockets, which weigh about 50 pounds.

In other action Thursday, U.S. Marines suffered four killed and 13 wounded in a 40-minute engagement with about 150 North Vietnamese troops. The Marine company was covering the withdrawal from the Khe Sanh combat base when the enemy attacked with small arms, machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades. A U.S. spokesman said 17 enemy bodies were found after the battle.

South Viet Forces

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 22 enemy soldiers on the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone, near Gio Linh. Spokesmen said government losses were one killed and two wounded.

Also along the DMZ, enemy gunners shot down a helicopter from the 101st Air Cavalry Division, killing three of the four crewmen and wounding the other.

American troops were alerted against possible terrorist attacks in Saigon and there was little Fourth of July celebrating.

President Robert Frontz presided during the week's session at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. offices on W. 6th St.

The bull-thrower award went to Harold Sneddon and the most-improved-speaker award to William Frontz.

S. Leslie Jones was toastmaster, Vincent Maola led table topics, Sneddon was chief evaluator and Maola and William Frontz gave impromptu speeches.

The three fundamental units of measure are length, weight and time.

Boy, 13, Injured By Own 'Bomb'

SALEM — A homemade noisemaker exploded early Thursday near East Rochester and wounded James Kirchner, 13, of Wheeling.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kirchner, he is in "good" condition today at Salem Central Clinic. Surgeons were to remove a metal fragment from his upper right leg today.

Sheriff's Deputy Kent Garvey investigated the accident after clinic personnel reported it at 8:14 a. m. yesterday.

The Kirchners are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers of 742 W. Wilson, Salem. Yesterday morning, the boy was riding with his father near East Rochester when the car developed trouble. While the father was making repairs, James apparently decided to set off a bomb — a five-inch-long metal tube with a half-inch opening into which he packed gunpowder he had made at home in Wheeling.

New Cumberland Entry Nets $130

NEW CUMBERLAND — Police were called to the Phillips building on Chester St. at 1 p.m. Thursday to investigate a breaking and entering in the offices of Dr. Dale Williams, Atty. Edwin Flowers and Matt Phillips, with $130.75 being taken from Flowers' office.

The entry was discovered by Evelyn Springer, secretary to Phillips.

Chief of Police William Webster and Constable Donald Dunlevy, who investigated, said entry was gained through the rear door. The office doors were pried open with a chisel.

Drivers Being Robbed

Pittsburgh Studies New Transit Fare Collection

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bus and trolley operators are finding it difficult to keep their change.

Since January 1 there have been 64 robberies, mostly in the city's ghetto areas. Generally, the drivers have been unharmed, but the thieves usually take their personal cash as well as their fare collections.

Now the Port Authority Transit (PAT) is beginning to put together a new method of night time fare collection.

What the final result will be is not yet known. But it will likely be much like those used in Washington and Baltimore.

In the capital the "scrip" method is used. Change is given in scrip and the patron can cash the scrip in at designated places.

In Baltimore unless you have the correct fare, you don't ride the bus—unless you'll willing to put more in the box than the fare costs.

The PAT is studying both methods.

They say implementation of either one in Pittsburgh would trigger a reduction of passengers.

But, the authority would stand to gain a few dollars that people would drop in when they don't have change.

The PAT has its own internal police force. But they admit the situation is past their control. PAT's board of directors hopes for more protection from the city police department.

Another course of action could be the reduction of service in the areas where most of the muggings and robberies are committed.

FDA Clamp Down

Pitt University Assisting In Check Of Drug Plants

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is clamping down on the drug manufacturing process with the help of the University of Pittsburgh.

Under the FDA's new director, Dr. Herbert L. Ley, and spawned by the famed Thalidomide tragedy, the FDA has hired a group of college-trained men to inspect 250 drug plants throughout the nation.

Pitt's job has been to give the inspectors enough knowledge in two weeks to communicate with drug researchers and doctors, evaluate experimental designs and interpret conclusions from raw data.

Dr. Joseph P. Buckley, head of Pitt's department of pharmacology, said, "The government is really clamping down on the drug manufacturing process."

Some brands of drugs give more or less effectiveness than others even though marketed as the same product. Dr. Buckley said this is due to the way the drug is synthesized and manufactured.

"Just because an aspirin tablet contains five grains of salicylic acid, that doesn't mean it gives you the effectiveness of the full five grains," he said.

The Thalidomide tragedy occurred several years ago when a rash of deformed births around the world were blamed on a tranquilizer given to expectant mothers.

At Pitt the inspectors have learned how various drugs act on the body, why one drug is better than another in a given disease, and how side affects in humans can be determined from experimental data on animals.

Personalities In The News

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Julie Nixon says she and fiance David Eisenhower are going to wait until after the November election to make their wedding plans.

Julie, daughter of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, appeared with David at a news conference Thursday during a political visit.

David, grandson of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, scored a personal political first during the day by kissing a baby at a Republican rally in Hillsville.

LONDON (AP) — Louis Armstrong celebrated his 68th birthday Thursday by showing that the years haven't dulled the sound that made him famous.

Satchmo was honored at a luncheon given by Britain's Beaverbrook newspapers and proceded to say "Thank you" by leading his all-stars in a swinging medley of "Hello, Dolly!" "Wonderful World" and "Sleepy Time Down South."

"My life has been all around music," said Armstrong. "I am rejoicing today."

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — "I've always wanted to go out and do one thing myself," said Richard Ault, 30, a producer of radio commercials, as he, his wife and their four-year-old daughter boarded a freighter for a lonely South Sea island.

The Aults plan to live for one year on the island of Suvarov, an uninhabited strip of land three quarters of a mile wide and a mile and a-half long.

Ault said the trip was just a matter of proving "we can go out and live, isolated, without any help from the outside world."

The family plans to pick up 15 chickens at a stop on Tahiti and plant a garden for vegetables.

Church Council Studying Youth Representation

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — The World Council of Churches assembly has formed a committee to study ways to give youth more representation in meetings and conferences.

The action was taken by assembly delegates Thursday following a minor protest incident.

Two youths picketed with a placard reading "silence" and were chased away by police. Another youth climbed a lamp post and was hauled down by watchful officers. The you people were apparently protesting lack of representation at the assembly.

Although the council has arranged for 150 church youths to attend they have no voting rights.

With Roman Catholic observers attending for the first time, the council assembly is the most widely representative gathering of Christians in history. It embraces 222 Protestant, Eastern Orthodox, Anglican and national Catholic denominations that have more than 350 million members in 80 nations.

The assembly opened with a posthumous plea for fulfillment of ecumenical efforts, contained in a 2,000-word unfinished report by the late Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry.

Rev. Fry died June 6 after 14 years as head of the WCC.

The report said improved relations between the council and the Roman Catholic Church were the "overtowering event" of the last seven years.

But it conceded that "thorny problems" had been encountered in relations betwten the council and Roman Catholics. It also said efforts to establish relations with evangelical groups had met with "meager results."

Vietnam

"We're getting it (the weapons) at the base camps before it can be moved."

Maj. Gen. John J. Hay, commander of U.S. troops in the capital military district, has said the only way to prevent attacks on Saigon is to seize enemy weapons before they can be moved into firing position.

One of the latest discoveries was made by U.S. 1st Division infantrymen in a complex of five bunkers and 150 feet of tunnels 33 miles north of Saigon. The cache contained 110 bazooka-type rockets, seven rocket launchers, an 82mm mortar and 24 shells for it.

South Vietnamese infantrymen turned up a cache 180 miles northwest of Saigon which government spokesmen said contained five 100-pound Russian rockets of the type used to shell Saigon in recent weeks; 91 rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle shells and three recoiless rifle bazooka-type rockets.

Bunkers Booby-Trapped

About 30 miles northwest of Saigon, other 1st Division troops gingerly probed booby-trapped enemy bunkers where they already had found a cache of more than 35 of the big Russian 122mm rockets plus more than 1,000 bazooka-type rockets.

Enemy Thrown Back

The cache is only 10 miles from a big U.S. base at Dau Teng, which came under a 500-round rocket and mortar attack earlier Thursday. Cooks, clerks and drivers helped infantrymen repel enemy commandos in a 2½-hour battle at the base.

Two other rocket caches were seized six miles east of Saigon Wednesday and Thursday. These included both 122mm rockets and Chinese 107mm rockets, which weigh about 50 pounds.

In other action Thursday, U.S. Marines suffered four killed and 13 wounded in a 40-minute engagement with about 150 North Vietnamese troops. The Marine company was covering the withdrawal from the Khe Sanh combat base when the enemy attacked with small arms, machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades. A U.S. spokesman said 17 enemy bodies were found after the battle.

South Viet Forces

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 22 enemy soldiers on the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone, near Gio Linh. Spokesmen said government losses were one killed and two wounded.

Also along the DMZ, enemy gunners shot down a helicopter from the 101st Air Cavalry Division, killing three of the four crewmen and wounding the other.

American troops were alerted against possible terrorist attacks in Saigon and there was little Fourth of July celebrating.

Year-Old Conflict

Bloody, Civil War Pushes Nigeria To Edge Of Ruin

LAGOS (AP) — Nigeria, a country of vast potential riches and the most populous nation in Africa, continues to wallow in a bloody, year-old civil war and efforts to arrange a cease-fire have so far been futile.

The federal government in Lagos holds the upper hand in the fighting and has occupied large chunks of the secessionist Eastern Region—Biafra—and most of the area's major cities.

Both sides would like to end the conflict that has driven the country to the edge of ruin, created millions of refugees in Biafra and killed untold numbers of Nigerians.

But cease-fire negotiations in May broke down in disagreement over conditions. The Biafrans want an unconditional cease-fire and withdrawal of federal troops. Lagos wants assurances, before it withdraws its forces, that Biafra will rejoin the federation as three separate states.

Contacts are continuing and there is a possibility new talks may begin in London.

Meanwhile, the situation in Biafra grows more and more desperate. There are an estimated 4.5-million refugees in what is left of Biafra and a generation of youngsters in the area is being crippled by protein starvation, relief officials say.

International relief agencies say that as many as a million Biafrans will die of starvation before the end of summer unless more food can be supplied to the Biafrans, now jammed into about 10,000 square miles of what already was the most densley populated territory of Africa.

The area is under tight blockade by the Lagos government and the federal air force of Soviet-built MIGs and Czech-made Delfins controls the air. Federal capture in May of Port Harcourt, Biafra's largest city and its main depot for airfield supplies, tightened the ring on Biafra.

In June, Biafra began broadcasting appeals for massive relief shipments and said refugees were dying by the thousands.

To maintain its stance of independence from Lagos, Biafra does not want the aid passed through federal hands.

But in New York this week, a federal spokesman said: "All ports and major airports are in federal hands so it is impossible to channel supplies to Biafran refugees without going through federal authorities."

Chief Anthony Enahoro, negotiator for the federal government, said of reports that millions of Biafrans will starve in the next few months, "It is quite clear they are attempting to exploit the sympathies of the outside world for the purpose of their military interests."

"There is an attempt to blame us for the effects of the war," said Enahoro. "The quickest way to stop all this is for them to stop secession."

He said the federal government has left open avenues for supplies to reach Biafra and has offered trucks to move relief supplies. "But the rebels say, oh, no. What they want is an unconditional cease-fire."

He blamed Biafra for delays in reaching a cease-fire.

Nigeria seemed to have a bright future in 1960 when it granted independence from Britain. It had an estimated $55-million people and huge untapped resources. But seething tribal animosity finally brought the country to civil war.

Holds Girl Hostage

Australian Forces Cops To Give Him Gun, Ammo

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A gunman who has held out for three days against a police siege and even got authorities to help marry him to his hostage, an 18-year-old girl, now has a high-powered rifle given to him by the police commissioner.

Commissioner Norman T. Allan said today he was forced into the action when Wally Mellish, 23, pointed a shotgun and pistol at his new bride and demanded the rifle.

"I had to make an agonizing decision," Allan said. "To refuse meant death for her and the baby."

Mellish is holding both his wife, the former Beryl Muddle, and her 10-week-old son as hostages.

Allan and the Rev. Clyde Paton, an Anglican priest, entered the suburban Sydney house where Mellish is holding out to reason with him Thursday.

Mellish had broken his promise to surrender if he was allowed to marry Miss Muddle, whom he seized at gunpoint Tuesday.

The Rev. Mr. Paton performed the ceremony Wednesday and Allan, who was unarmed, was a witness.

Allan said today that in addition to the high-powered Armalite rifle and 200 rounds of ammunition for it, Mellish has a shotgun, a .303 rifle and a pistol. Mellish's wife said he also has a box of grenades.

"My only concern is for the lives of that girl and her baby," Allan said. "I'll do anything to grant any request to protect them. I have the responsibility of seeing that the baby and the mother are not killed through any action of mine. . . .

"If we have to wait seven days we will wait. We cannot use tear gas. How would an 18-year-old girl and a baby stand up to high density tear gas?"

The house still was surrounded by police today.

Students Ask Permanent Traffic Ban

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A permanent ban on regular traffic along a main street leading to the University of California was demanded today by young militants following a July Fourth "happening" allowed by the City Council.

A crowd estimated at nearly 5,000 milled back and forth Thursday along a two-block area of Telegraph Avenue, claimed by an activist coalition as "our street."

The spirit was one of a victory celebration.

They had battled the City Council for a permit to close off the street and the council relented after first denying that and other demands.

Mass gatherings in the street a week ago touched off police sweeps and strict curfews and resulted in 132 arrests.

The first rally, spearheaded by the Young Socialist Alliance without a permit to block Telegraph, was held to protest the "De Gaulle government's treatment of French students."

Thursday's demonstration billed as political, featured rock bands and skits ridiculing police. It ended without any disturbances. Monitors directed traffic on the fringe of the rally area and no police were seen.

The crowd began diminishing when speakers began attacking the Vietnam war, the De Gaulle government and police, but picked up again when the bands returned.

Large Warehouse Destroyed By Fire

LUDLOW, Ky. (AP) — Fire officials were continuing the investigation of a fire which inflicted damage estimated at $300,000 to the Duro Paper Bag Co. in Ludlow Thursday.

A two-block warehouse and office complex were destroyed, but firemen succeeded in preventing flames from spreading to a nearby lumberyard. Two firemen suffered smoke inhalation.

Approximately 200 firemen from 11 northern Kentucky fire departments answered the alarm.

The warehouse destroyed contained large quantities of paper bags and two truck trailers.

Smiles Return To Face Of Boy Attacked By Dog

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two years and 270 surgical stitches after 9-year-old Billy Hines rescued a playmate from a snarling dog, smiles have returned to the lad's face.

Plastic surgery has erased nearly all signs of the mauling inflicted by Rex, a husky German shepherd, when Billy, then 7, stepped between it and Robbie Ellenberger, then 2.

"For two years he couldn't smile," said Billy's mother, Mrs. William Hines. "He was self-conscious. They called him Scarface."

"That dog was going to hurt Robbie," Billy said.

He recalled that he had pulled Robbie in a little red wagon, accompanied by their parents, to a neighborhood store, when Rex lunged at Robbie. He said he jumped in and pushed Robbie away.

"The dog scratched my elbow and it hurt," Billy said. "Then he bit my face but I didn't feel that so much."

Robbie was unhurt.

Billy will have to go to the hospital periodically until his surgery is completed. That will be when he's 18.

Indian Rain Dance Brings On Downpour

SALIDA, Colo. (AP) — No rain had fallen in Salida since early June—until Thursday night.

Then the Chavanaux Indians took up their bullsnakes and began a Hopi Indian rain dance. Midway in the dance drops of rain began falling.

The dancers kept dancing and the rain kept falling. When the dancers finally stopped, so did the rain. But 45 minutes later more rain began falling and turned into a steady shower.

The Chavanaux are members of Boy Scout Troop 66.

Mr. and Mrs. Matley Swales of Fremont say:

"For less than $20 a month, electric heating keeps the floors of our big, 100-year-old home warm enough for the children to play on."

"Electric heat just couldn't be better," exclaims Mrs. Swales.

"It really keeps the entire house warm and comfortable, even the floors. And it costs less to operate than the estimated amount."

The Swales converted to electric heating a couple of years ago when they bought and remodeled their century-old, 8-room home. Now they pay less than $34 a month to keep it comfortably warm, to heat water, refrigerate and cook, wash and dry clothes, and do hundreds of other jobs around the house.

Mrs. Swales thinks flameless electric heating is a bargain and "so clean...I know because our white walls and woodwork stay white!" Comfort, cleanliness, and economy—all with electric heating. Call Ohio Power for a free, no-obligation estimate of how little it would cost in your own home.

"Electric heat just couldn't be better," exclaims Mrs. Swales.

"It really keeps the entire house warm and comfortable, even the floors. And it costs less to operate than the estimated amount."

The Swales converted to electric heating a couple of years ago when they bought and remodeled their century-old, 8-room home. Now they pay less than $34 a month to keep it comfortably warm, to heat water, refrigerate and cook, wash and dry clothes, and do hundreds of other jobs around the house.

Mrs. Swales thinks flameless electric heating is a bargain and "so clean...I know because our white walls and woodwork stay white!" Comfort, cleanliness, and economy—all with electric heating. Call Ohio Power for a free, no-obligation estimate of how little it would cost in your own home.

ANN LANDERS

Boy Needs Doctor's Help

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My wife suggested I write to you because our problem is one we don't want to discuss with anyone in this city.

Last week our 16-year-old son came home from boarding school. He said he had something important to tell me. From the look on his face I knew he was distressed. My first thought was, "He's gotten some girl in trouble." Well, Ann, I wish it were true. It would have been simple compared with the real problem.

The boy confessed he's a homosexual. His mother and I are crushed. I blame myself for failing as a father. I feel guilty for not spending more time with him. My wife says this way of life probably was inflicted on him by the other boys at school. Is it possible?

Our son always has been a fine student, an outstanding athlete, popular with boys and girls. He's also very handsome, almost beautiful, which adds to the problem.

Should we send him to a coed high school next fall. He says he doesn't want to see a doctor because he's not sick. I assure you that his mother and I ARE. Please advise. — HEARTBROKEN DAD.

-:-

Dear Dad: Insist that the boy see a doctor. There's a chance that he might not be a homosexual. The amount of ignorance on this subject is appalling.

A coed high school might be a good idea. A change of scenery and companions could be helpful. Be aware, however, that homosexuality cannot be "inflicted on" a normal male so don't blame the school if it turns out that the boy IS a homosexual.

There is some disagreement among the experts regarding what causes homosexuality. While the vast majority of authorities agree it is the result of a poor child-parent relationship early in the youngster's life, there are other theories which should not be totally discounted. The important thing NOW is to get the boy to a doctor and hope for the best.

Opportunist

Dear Ann: You hear a lot of talk about the serviceman who receives a "Dear John" from his girl back home when he is chopping his way through some far-away jungle. My story is just the opposite. You might call it a "Dear Jane."

When John went overseas I promised to write every day and I kept my word. I sent him newspaper clippings, snapshots, home-made cookies, also many small but thoughtful gifts. I devoted all my spare time to letting him know I loved him, and was living for the day when he would come home. This went on for 10 months.

John was never a letter writer so I didn't expect much, but when he did write, his letters were warm and wonderful and I read them over so many times I knew them by heart.

Yesterday I received a note saying, "Sorry I didn't tell you sooner but I'm going to marry a Red Cross girl I met here the week I arrived."

I'm in a daze. I don't know if I should forget about him, write and wish him luck, or hope he'll change his mind and come home to me after all.

My parents think he played a rotten trick on me. I'm confused and hurt. Please advise. — JANE.

-:-

Dear Jane: Pick up the pieces and get back in circulaton. And don't be bitter, dear. A lonely guy 8,000 miles away from his girl is exceptionally vulnerable. The females he meets overseas may not be overwhelming but they are over THERE.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Pen Warden Hospitalized

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary Warden Ernest Maxwell was hospitalized Thursday, suffering from what his physicians described as "complete exhaustion."

Maxwell, scheduled to retire soon, has long suffered from a chest and lung ailment. He had been on duty almost constantly since rioting and fires broke out at the penitentiary June 24.

Maury Koblentz, state corrections chief, said Troy Harris, administrative assistant to Maxwell, will be in chargt of the prison until Maxwell returns.

Koblentz said inmates have been confined to their cells, largely to "rest the employes." The prison is more than 50 guards short and some of them have been working 12 - hour shifts.

Koblentz also said Thursday that a total of 94 inmates have been placed in isolation cells in the highway patrol's investigation of the recent rioting and fires.

However, Koblentz said that this does not necessarily mean that all 94 will face charges when the investigation is completed.

Massillon Youth Badly Wounded

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Nine-year-old Mike Santo was sitting on a bench with swimming companions near here Thursday when he slumped forward and cried, "I've been shot!"

The youth was reported in critical condition after undergoing surgery at Massillon City Hospital.

Police are hunting for two men seen driving away in a white convertible with the top down. Witnesses said one of the men fired four shots about 250 yards from the boys, who were swimming at Crystal Lake Park seven miles north of Massillon.

The weapon used was a 22-caliber but police did not know if it was a rifle or hand gun. One slug hit the Santo youth in the groin and passed through his body.

Englishman Completes World Trip

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Alec Rose woke up today after a good sleep in a stationary bed, went back to work at his vegetable shop and dismissed his round-the-world solo voyage as a selfish project—not very important.

Lavish headlines and editorials celebrated his homecoming Thursday from his 28,500-mile voyage in the 36-foot ketch Lively Lady, and the cheers of a crowd of 250,000 echoed through this historic English seaport, his hometown.

But Rose, 59, took it all as quietly as if it hardly mattered.

He said he felt he had been a bit selfish—"just going off and doing something that I've always wanted to do since I was a child."

But he felt a better man. "One must have the shadows of life to appreciate the light," he said.

In 354 days at sea, Rose endured the ultimate in loneliness and stared death in the face.

Once he passed out from fumes while trying to repair the small engine which charged his batteries.

"I came to in about two hours," he said. "All I could do was lie on my bunk and recuperate. It was several days before I could raise an appetite."

At the tricky times, he prayed.

"Why not?" he said. "I said my prayers as sincerely and honestly as I could.

"I felt at times rather a hypocrite—asking for help when I needed it and not asking for help when I didn't need it. However, I felt my prayers were answered at times and we got through."

His wife Dorothy stocked his ship and did it so well that he came home with enough food in the lockers to last another six months.

5 Vietnam Veterans Meet After 2 Years

BOSTON (AP) — Five Vietnam veterans kept a date Thursday at the top of the 750-foot Prudential Tower.

They made the date two years ago while serving together. Their reunion "tickets" were the quarters of a dollar bill, carried by four, and a strip of tape to stick the pieces together again.

Lee Balzano, 24, of Concord, thought up the dollar bill angle, kept one piece, and gave the others to Stephen Mahoney of Everett, Stephen Harvey of Stoughton, and Rodney Julian of Brookline. John Ferolite of Marlboro, the fifth man, brought the sticking tape.

A building representative refunded the 50 cent charges they'd paid for the elevator trip to the tower.

Hot Whiskey Poured From Distillery Fire

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — A river of flaming whisky poured down a hill and into a lake as fire consumed a warehouse at the Waterfil-Frazier distillery Thursday night.

According to one estimate, as many as 5,000 barrels of whisky may have been burned in the blaze. Fire officials are trying to determine the cause of the blaze. There were no injuries.

Musuraca Pitches East Liverpool Legion Past Midland

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Hancock County school board may have bitten off more than it can chew.

At its May meeting, the board, which controls both Oak Glen and Weirton high schools, announced that all coaching positions were open, and that no man could be head coach in more than one sport.

There were school politics, as usual, behind the move, and it was apparently aimed at Oak Glen's Bob Starkey, who was head coach in football, basketball and track as well as athletic director. Starkey, who had been seeking another job before the school board announced its decision, took the head basketball coaching job at Shepherd State. But Starkey was not the only person affected by the ruling. Carl Fodor of Weirton was head coach in football, wrestling and baseball. The board expected Fodor to stay in football, but he crossed them up and chose to remain as wrestling coach instead. Also affected is Burdell (Jimmy) Carey of Weirton, head basketball and track coach.

BUT EVEN the coaches not affected by the more-than-one-sport ruling were upset by the board's announcement. Vince Monseau, head wrestling coach at Oak Glen, took a position elsewhere. There is a report that all the coaches at Oak Glen will resign their coaching positions. As it is Oak Glen lacks head football, basketball, track, and wrestling coaches as well as an atheletic director. Weirton must find a new football coach.

The board meets Monday night, and some appointments and resignations are expected in the coaching ranks. It seems that it would have been simpler to not renew Starkey's contract, if that was what the board desired, rather than to make a sweeping decision that has all the county coaches upset.

Saints Get End Stickles From 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers of the National Footall League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom. The Saints are to report that.

Saint quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Green Bay's Thurston Plans Retirement

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston, believed to have played on more National Football League championship teams than any other man, Thursday announced his retirement from the Green Bay Packers.

Yarborough Firecracker 400 Winner

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For William Caleb Yarborough speed is a way of life—the normal, slow way of doing things just doesn't agree with this son of a South Carolina tobacco farmer.

Yarborough—just "Cale" to fans of late model stock car racing—fractured the auto racing record book Thursday when he breezed to a 167.247 miles an hour victory in an accident-free Firecracker 400.

That's about 14 miles an hour faster than it has ever been done before and eclipses all-time race records at Daytona and even Indianapolis.

Cale's reaction? A smile on his boyish face and a prediction that he'll snap the magic 190 m.p.h. mark in qualifying here next February if the rules aren't changed on him.

Mraovic Loser In 3-1 Contest

East Liverpool Post 374 edged Midland Post 481 in the annual Fourth of July American Legion baseball game at Midland yesterday afternoon.

Jim Musuraca, making his first start of the season for East Liverpool, got the win on a five-hitter, allowing only an unearned run. Musuraca also slammed an apparent home run, but was called out for missing second.

George Mraovic was the loser, also allowing only five hits in the pitchers' duel.

Bob Bartram led off the game with a walk, took second on an infield out and scored on a hit by Rex Campbell, giving East Liverpool a 1-0 lead. In the third Sam Doughty struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from the catcher. Bartram singled and then Musuraca hit his apparent homer, which turned out to be good for two runs even though Musuraca was out.

Midland got its only run in the last of the third when Roscoe Ranelli singled, stole second and scored when Jerry Howell threw wildly on a grounder by Mike Lacey. Midland had threatened in the first when Ranelli walked and Greg Braund doubled, but Musuraca retired the next three batters without a run scoring.

Campbell led East Liverpool with two hits, including a double. Bartram walked three times as well as getting a hit. Ranelli had two hits for Midland.

East Liverpool is at Columbiana and Midland at Brighton Twp. in games tonight.

Beaver Falls Legion Whips Midland 14-3

By JOHN MUELLER

The Midland American Legion baseball team was soundly trounced 14-3 by the Beaver Falls Legion at Midland Wednesday evening.

Bob Garvin's three - run homer in the first inning featured the Fallsmen's attack.

Beaver Falls scored in all but one inning, the final frame, as they touched a trio of Midland hurlers for 10 hits and received nine bases on balls. Beaver Falls took advantage of the walks and six of the nine free passes scored.

Mental lapses, passed balls, wild pitches and errors accounted for six of the Fallsmens runs.

The first inning was a stalemate as both teams scored three runs. Bill Coble, starting Midland hurler, walked the first two batters and Garvin unloaded his homer to give the visitors a 3-0 lead.

Midland managed to tie it up in their half. Roscoe Ranelli led off with a double and Mike Lacey followed with a bloop double, with Ranelli holding at third. Greg Braund fouled out but George Mraovic singled to score both runners. Mraovic scored on an error by the catcher.

The second inning dampened Midland hopes as the home team handed Beaver Falls three runs on three hits wrapped around a walk, a wild pitch, a fielders choice and two stolen bases.

Midland's hurlers were lax with men on the bases as they permitted runners to steal eight bases, including third three times.

Coble started for Midland and gave up six runs on three hits, walked three and struck out one in one and two - thirds innings. Greg Braund hurled three innings, gave up seven runs, four hits, walked four and struck out one. Mike Lacey was the most effective of the hurlers as he worked the last two and one-third innings, giving up the final run, a pair of hits, walking two and striking three.

Don Huntington went the distance for Beaver Falls. He gave up five hits and struck out seven.

All-Star Aaron A Bust

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The All-Star voters, Hank Aaron said about his selection to the National League team, must have voted the first day of the season.

Aaron showed again Thursday why he made that quip.

Atlanta's erstwhile batting terror grounded into double plays his last two times at bat as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Braves 6-4 and tied them for second place.

Aaron's lack of hitting has been evident all season. True, he has hit 15 home runs, second best in the league, and driven in 43 runs, sixth in the NL.

But a large portion of those RBI has not significantly aided the Atlanta attack, and he's hitting an incredibly low .231. That compares with his .316 lifetime average, tops among active players.

Still his fellow players voted him into the starting line-up for the All-Star game in Houston next Tuesday.

Against the Giants Thursday, the 34-year-old Aaron singled in the fifth inning, stole second and scored on Joe Torre's single. But it was a different story each of the other four times he batted, especially the last two.

Coming to the plate in the seventh with Felipe Alou at first base, and the game tied 4-4, Aaron grounded a Frank Linzy pitch to shortstop Hal Lanier, who promptly turned it into a double play.

By the ninth inning the Braves were trailing 6-4, but they rallied and loaded the bases with one out on a walk to Mike Pageand singles by Alou and Clete Boyer.

Up stepped Aaron needing only a single to tie the game. Instead he bounced back to Linzy, who flipped to Dick Dietz at the plate for one out, and Dietz fired to first for the final out.

In other NL games, St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2, Pittsburgh nipped New York 3-2 before losing 4-3, Philadelphia downed Chicago 7-4 after losing 6-2 and Cincinnati defeated Houston 7-4.

While Linzy was stifling Aaron's bat, the Braves couldn't do anything with Dietz'. The Giant catcher drove in four runs with a two-run double in the first and a two-run homer in the seventh that snapped the 4-4 deadlock. Bobby Bonds contributed a two-run single to the Giants' attack.

Mike Shannon's two-run homer in the eighth broke a 1-1 tie and sent the league-leading Cardinals to their fourth straight victory over Los Angeles. Len Gabrielson made it close for the Dodgers with a homer in the bottom of the inning.

Eighth-inning doubles by Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski carried Pittsburgh past New York in the first game and handed Jerry Koosman his fourth loss against 11 victories. Koosman drove in one of the Mets' runs with a single. Maury Wills stole three bases for the Pirates in the game.

The Mets came back in the nightcap behind Don Bosch, who socked a two-run homer in the third, then doubled and scored in the fifth, Cleon Jones added a homer for the Mets.

Billy Williams ended an 0-for-15 slump by igniting a three-run rally for Chicago in the fourth inning of the opener with a single and then homering in the fifth. Dick Nen hit a two-run homer for the Cubs in the eighth.

Williams smashed a three-run homer in the second contest, but Philadelphia broke a 3-3 tie with four runs in the seventh. Doubles by Roberto Pena, Johnny Briggs and Clay Dalrymple powered the outburst. Jeff James got his first major league victory.

Alex Johnson and Mack Jones each drove in three runs in Cincinnati's victory over Houston. Johnson singled across one run and Jones two in the three-run uprising in the ninth that was the difference.

Musuraca Pitches East Liverpool Legion Past Midland

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Hancock County school board may have bitten off more than it can chew.

At its May meeting, the board, which controls both Oak Glen and Weirton high schools, announced that all coaching positions were open, and that no man could be head coach in more than one sport.

There were school politics, as usual, behind the move, and it was apparently aimed at Oak Glen's Bob Starkey, who was head coach in football, basketball and track as well as athletic director. Starkey, who had been seeking another job before the school board announced its decision, took the head basketball coaching job at Shepherd State. But Starkey was not the only person affected by the ruling. Carl Fodor of Weirton was head coach in football, wrestling and baseball. The board expected Fodor to stay in football, but he crossed them up and chose to remain as wrestling coach instead. Also affected is Burdell (Jimmy) Carey of Weirton, head basketball and track coach.

BUT EVEN the coaches not affected by the more-than-one-sport ruling were upset by the board's announcement. Vince Monseau, head wrestling coach at Oak Glen, took a position elsewhere. There is a report that all the coaches at Oak Glen will resign their coaching positions. As it is Oak Glen lacks head football, basketball, track, and wrestling coaches as well as an atheletic director. Weirton must find a new football coach.

The board meets Monday night, and some appointments and resignations are expected in the coaching ranks. It seems that it would have been simpler to not renew Starkey's contract, if that was what the board desired, rather than to make a sweeping decision that has all the county coaches upset.

Mraovic Loser In 3-1 Contest

East Liverpool Post 374 edged Midland Post 481 in the annual Fourth of July American Legion baseball game at Midland yesterday afternoon.

Jim Musuraca, making his first start of the season for East Liverpool, got the win on a five-hitter, allowing only an unearned run. Musuraca also slammed an apparent home run, but was called out for missing second.

George Mraovic was the loser, also allowing only five hits in the pitchers' duel.

Bob Bartram led off the game with a walk, took second on an infield out and scored on a hit by Rex Campbell, giving East Liverpool a 1-0 lead. In the third Sam Doughty struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from the catcher. Bartram singled and then Musuraca hit his apparent homer, which turned out to be good for two runs even though Musuraca was out.

Midland got its only run in the last of the third when Roscoe Ranelli singled, stole second and scored when Jerry Howell threw wildly on a grounder by Mike Lacey. Midland had threatened in the first when Ranelli walked and Greg Braund doubled, but Musuraca retired the next three batters without a run scoring.

Campbell led East Liverpool with two hits, including a double. Bartram walked three times as well as getting a hit. Ranelli had two hits for Midland.

East Liverpool is at Columbiana and Midland at Brighton Twp. in games tonight.

The All-Star voters, Hank Aaron said about his selection to the National League team, must have voted the first day of the season.

Aaron showed again Thursday why he made that quip.

Atlanta's erstwhile batting terror grounded into double plays his last two times at bat as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Braves 6-4 and tied them for second place.

Aaron's lack of hitting has been evident all season. True, he has hit 15 home runs, second best in the league, and driven in 43 runs, sixth in the NL.

But a large portion of those RBI has not significantly aided the Atlanta attack, and he's hitting an incredibly low .231. That compares with his .316 lifetime average, tops among active players.

Still his fellow players voted him into the starting line-up for the All-Star game in Houston next Tuesday.

Against the Giants Thursday, the 34-year-old Aaron singled in the fifth inning, stole second and scored on Joe Torre's single. But it was a different story each of the other four times he batted, especially the last two.

Coming to the plate in the seventh with Felipe Alou at first base, and the game tied 4-4, Aaron grounded a Frank Linzy pitch to shortstop Hal Lanier, who promptly turned it into a double play.

By the ninth inning the Braves were trailing 6-4, but they rallied and loaded the bases with one out on a walk to Mike Pageand singles by Alou and Clete Boyer.

Up stepped Aaron needing only a single to tie the game. Instead he bounced back to Linzy, who flipped to Dick Dietz at the plate for one out, and Dietz fired to first for the final out.

In other NL games, St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2, Pittsburgh nipped New York 3-2 before losing 4-3, Philadelphia downed Chicago 7-4 after losing 6-2 and Cincinnati defeated Houston 7-4.

While Linzy was stifling Aaron's bat, the Braves couldn't do anything with Dietz'. The Giant catcher drove in four runs with a two-run double in the first and a two-run homer in the seventh that snapped the 4-4 deadlock. Bobby Bonds contributed a two-run single to the Giants' attack.

Mike Shannon's two-run homer in the eighth broke a 1-1 tie and sent the league-leading Cardinals to their fourth straight victory over Los Angeles. Len Gabrielson made it close for the Dodgers with a homer in the bottom of the inning.

Eighth-inning doubles by Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski carried Pittsburgh past New York in the first game and handed Jerry Koosman his fourth loss against 11 victories. Koosman drove in one of the Mets' runs with a single. Maury Wills stole three bases for the Pirates in the game.

The Mets came back in the nightcap behind Don Bosch, who socked a two-run homer in the third, then doubled and scored in the fifth. Cleon Jones added a homer for the Mets.

Billy Williams ended an 0-for-15 slump by igniting a three-run rally for Chicago in the fourth inning of the opener with a single and then homering in the fifth. Dick Nen hit a two-run homer for the Cubs in the eighth.

Williams smashed a three-run homer in the second contest, but Philadelphia broke a 3-3 tie with four runs in the seventh. Doubles by Roberto Pena, Johnny Briggs and Clay Dalrymple powered the outburst. Jeff James got his first major league victory.

Alex Johnson and Mack Jones each drove in three runs in Cincinnati's victory over Houston. Johnson singled across one run and Jones two in the three-run uprising in the ninth that was the difference.

Saints Get End Stickles From 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers of the National Footall League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom. The Saints are to report that.

Saint quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Green Bay's Thurston Plans Retirement

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston, believed to have played on more National Football League championship teams than any other man, Thursday announced his retirement from the Green Bay Packers.

Yarborough Firecracker 400 Winner

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For William Caleb Yarborough speed is a way of life—the normal, slow way of doing things just doesn't agree with this son of a South Carolina tobacco farmer.

Yarborough—just "Cale" to fans of late model stock car racing—fractured the auto racing record book Thursday when he breezed to a 167.247 miles an hour victory in an accident-free Firecracker 400.

That's about 14 miles an hour faster than it has ever been done before and eclipses all-time race records at Daytona and even Indianapolis.

Cale's reaction? A smile on his boyish face and a prediction that he'll snap the magic 190 m.p.h. mark in qualifying here next February if the rules aren't changed on him.

Tigers, Angels Erupt In Hitting Fireworks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Great Hit Famine took a back seat Thursday to an old fashioned Fourth of July fireworks show of home runs in Detroit.

Jim Northrup, Norm Cash and Don Mincher took turns hitting baseballs out of sight and when they were through, the Tigers had a 13-10 slugfest victory over California.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers and ninth in the last 10 games, giving them an 8½ game lead over the rest of the American League.

Northrup and Cash had two homers each for the Tigers and Mincher two for the Angels. Willie Horton and Bill Freehan also connected for Detroit and Jim Fregosi for California as the two teams used up 11 pitchers.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, Cleveland dropped Minnesota 6-3, Boston defeated Oakland 7-2 and Washington whipped New York 4-2.

The Angels scored four fast runs in the second inning with Mincher tagging his first homer and it looked like it might be a good day for Bill Rigney's club.

But the Tigers bounced right back with their biggest inning of the year, scoring nine runs in the bottom of the second with homers by Cash, Freehan and Horton leading the attack.

Northrup had a two-run triple and Dick McAuliffe a two-run double in the big inning. Cash and Northrup hit consecutive homers in the sixth and Northrup slammed a two-run shot in the eighth.

The six homers tied a Detroit club record and gave the team 93 homers for the year—26 of them against California.

Brooks Robinson tagged a pair of homers for the Orioles but Baltimore didn't beat the White Sox until the 12th when Fred Valentine led off with a triple and then strolled home following two intentional walks and one unintentional one.

Chicago had tied the game with two out in the ninth and Pete Ward on first when Bill Voss was hit in the head by a pitch and Duane Josephson followed with a double. Voss suffered a fractured right cheekbone.

Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky ordered Mark Belanger and Dave Johnson intentionally walked following Valentine's triple in the 12th. Then Don Buford drew the third walk that forced Valentine home.

Ed Stroud slashed two doubles and two triples and scored twice, leading Washington past the Yankees. The four hits gave Stroud 11 hits in 21 at bats against the Yankees this season.

Stroud's first double set up Washington's first run and his second two-bagger touched off a two-run Senator rally in the sixth. He tripled and scored on Cap Peterson's single in the eighth.

Reliever Juan Pizarro drove in two runs and pitched one-hit ball for 6 2-3 innings, striking out seven, helping the Red Sox whip Oakland. Pizarro took over in the third for Jose Santiago, whose sore elbow forced him to retire. Santiago has been replaced on the All-Star team by Boston teammate Gary Bell.

Al Worthington's wild pitch allowed Cleveland's tie-breaking run to score and then Joe Azcue doubled two more runs across as the Indians dropped the Twins. Dean Chance was leading 3-2 going into the eighth but singles by Vern Fuller, Lee Maye and Russ Snyder tied the score. A wild pitch by reliever Ron Perranoski and an intentional walk to Lou Johnson set the stage for Worthington's wild pitch and Azcue's hit.

Funseth, Baird Lead Buick Open Tourney

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — A couple of journeyman pros with only two PGA tournament victories between them shared the lead going into today's second round of the $125,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

Rod Funseth of San Jose, Calif., and Butch Baird of Carlton Oaks, Calif., carved four-under-par 68s out of the long playing 7,001-yard par-72 Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club course Thursday.

Bounced lightly one stroke off the pace were long-hitting Marty Fleckman, South African Harold Henning, Rod Horn of Overland Park, Kan., and Don Feirfield of Palm Springs, Calif.

Defending champion Julius Boros and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino were with a group of 10 others two strokes behind the leaders.

Baird, a 31-year-old, nine-year veteran of the pro tour, had a chance to grab the lead on his closing hole but turned in his only bogey of the day to back into a tie with Funseth.

Amateurs Don't Get Wimbledon Prizes

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The professional tennis stars, only partly successful at the first-ever open Wimbledon, may press for bigger prize money next year.

George MacCall, the promoter who runs the National Tennis League, said its organization would have lost $20,000 by entering its stars in the Wimbledon tournament—even if they had cleaned up all the prize money.

One of MacCall's stars, Australian Rod Laver, plays in today's final. None of the other five reached tht quarter-finals.

MacCall said: "We have to support Wimbledon, which is a symbol of world tennis. But we can't go on supporting Wimbledon at a loss."

MacCall reportedly has suggested that next year prize money should be distributed among professionals—and registered amateurs playing for prize money—according to the order in which they finish. At present, if an amateur wins the prize money goes back into the kitty.

The All-England Club, which runs the Wimbledon tournament, offered $62,400 in prize money altogether. At present, it looks as if almost half of it will not be paid out because amateurs did better than many of the pros.

In today's men's singles final Laver faced Tony Roche, another Australian who is a member of the rival "Handsome Eight" troupe. They are battling for a first prize of $4,800 with $3,120 going to the runnerup.

The two defeated semifinalists were American amateurs—Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Clark Graebner of New York—so the tournament officials saved a total of $3,600 there.

There's also a 50-50 chance that the women's first prize of $1,800 will go back into the pot. The final will be played Sunday between the defending champion, Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who is under contract to MacCall and is going for the prize, and Australian amateur Judy Tegart, who is competing for expenses only.

Mrs. King overcame her old professional rival, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 Thursday.

Miss Tegart upset United States Wightman Cup star Nancp Richey of San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-1.

NFL Owners, Players Waiting For Strike

By The Associated Press

The strike there is one—of the National Football League Players Association now has reached the wait-and-see stage.

"Nobody is on strike now," veteran tackle Alex Karras said in Detroit.

"We won't know until Sunday when San Francisco goes into camp if there's a strike at all.

"All of the players will be on strike if there is no settlement before next week."

John Gordy, president of the Players Association, is maintaining official silence, but scores of players have said they received telegrams from him ordering them not to report until negotiations can be worked out with the owners.

The only official comment since the break-up of a meeting between player representatives and an owners group last weekend came from Art Modell, NFL president.

He said the plapers had rejected the owner's offer, particularly in the area of improved pension benefits. They apparently agreed on most, if not all, other points.

San Francisco has the first camp opening—for rookits Sunday. Rookies are not members of the Players Association.

Nineteen veteran members of the 49ers, including Howard Mudd, Bruce Bosley, Ken Willard and Joe Cerne, said they would not report at that time.

Veterans were scheduled to report the following week.

Detroit opens its rookie camp July 9, with Detroit and Green Bay scheduled the following day.

San Francisco owner Lou Spadia, however, said he did not think a strike would take place.

"I'm optimistic that it can be settled quickly," he said.

Gordy, however, has declined comment on whether future talks between player representatives and owners are scheduled.

Patterson, Ellis Sign For Fight

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Floyd Patterson gets a chance in September to become a heavyweight boxing champion for the third time.

The New Yorker signed Thursday to meet Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title.

The fight will be held in the 52,000-seat Raasunda soccer stadium with Ellis defending the WBA crown he won last April by defeating Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

That was the final of the WBA elimination tourney to determine a successor to Cassius Clay.

Clay was stripped of title recognition by the WBA and the New York Athletic Commission when he refused military induction into the U.S. armed forces.

M&A Rally Nips Rogers' In 14-13 Game

M & A Dodge, down 8-1 going into the last inning, rallied for 10 runs and hung on for a 14-13 win over Rogers' Drive-In in eight innings in a minor league game Wednesday night.

First National rolled 17-3 over Potters Savings and TS&T outlasted Tri - State 12-10 in the other games.

Rogers' tied the score in the last of the sixth, 11-11, but when M&A scored three times in the top of the eighth Rogers' could counter with only two markers and fell short. Randy Lawson was the winning pitcher and Shelton the loser. Rob Kitridge, Steve White and Gary Marker had two hits each and Jim Woods a double for M&A. Dray had two hits and Barber a double for Rogers'.

Burbick's Wins Pony Opener 5-3

Burbick's rallied for two runs in the sixth to down Littens 5-3 in the opening game of the Pony League playoffs at Beaver Local Wednesday night.

Tom Samples doubled and Ben Gregory singled him home to make it 5-4. Gregory was out trying to steal, but Jim Tipton singled, stole second and scored on an error for an insurance run.

Tipton was the winning pitcher, allowing only one hit, a two-run homer by Dutch Wright in the first. Tipton tied the game in the bottom half of the inning with a two - run single. Gregory walked in the fourth, took second on a hit by Tipton, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a squeeze bunt by Mike Banfield. A hit batsman, walk, sacrifice and error allowed Littens to tie the game in the fifth.

Dean Horger was the losing pitcher. The playoffs continue tonight.

Tigers, Angels Erupt In Hitting Fireworks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Great Hit Famine took a back seat Thursday to an old fashioned Fourth of July fireworks show of home runs in Detroit.

Jim Northrup, Norm Cash and Don Mincher took turns hitting baseballs out of sight and when they were through, the Tigers had a 13-10 slugfest victory over California.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers and ninth in the last 10 games, giving them an 8½ game lead over the rest of the American League.

Northrup and Cash had two homers each for the Tigers and Mincher two for the Angels. Willie Horton and Bill Freehan also connected for Detroit and Jim Fregosi for California as the two teams used up 11 pitchers.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, Cleveland dropped Minnesota 6-3, Boston defeated Oakland 7-2 and Washington whipped New York 4-2.

The Angels scored four fast runs in the second inning with Mincher tagging his first homer and it looked like it might be a good day for Bill Rigney's club.

But the Tigers bounced right back with their biggest inning of the year, scoring nine runs in the bottom of the second with homers by Cash, Freehan and Horton leading the attack.

Northrup had a two-run triple and Dick McAuliffe a two-run double in the big inning. Cash and Northrup hit consecutive homers in the sixth and Northrup slammed a two-run shot in the eighth.

The six homers tied a Detroit club record and gave the team 93 homers for the year—26 of them against California.

Brooks Robinson tagged a pair of homers for the Orioles but Baltimore didn't beat the White Sox until the 12th when Fred Valentine led off with a triple and then strolled home following two intentional walks and one unintentional one.

Chicago had tied the game with two out in the ninth and Pete Ward on first when Bill Voss was hit in the head by a pitch and Duane Josephson followed with a double. Voss suffered a fractured right cheekbone.

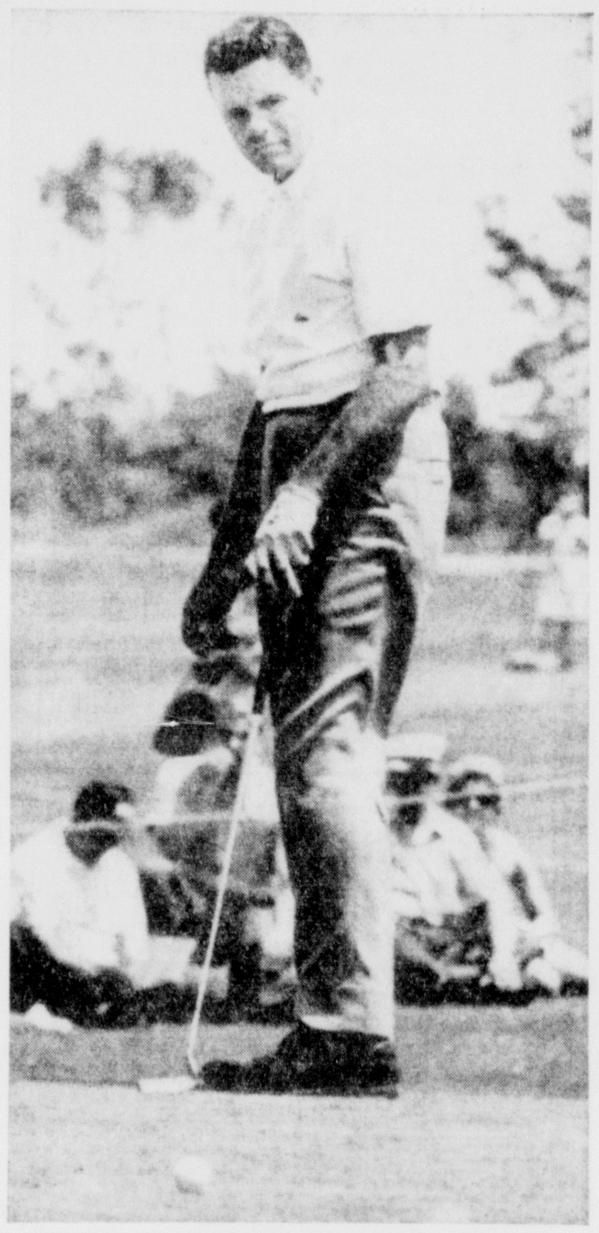
Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky ordered Mark Belanger and Dave Johnson intentionally walked following Valentine's triple in the 12th. Then Don Buford drew the third walk that forced Valentine home.

Ed Stroud slashed two doubles and two triples and scored twice, leading Washington past the Yankees. The four hits gave Stroud 11 hits in 21 at bats against the Yankees this season.

Stroud's first double set up Washington's first run and his second two-bagger touched off a two-run Senator rally in the sixth. He tripled and scored on Cap Peterson's single in the eighth.

Reliever Juan Pizarro drove in two runs and pitched one-hit ball for 6 2-3 innings, striking out seven, helping the Red Sox whip Oakland. Pizarro took over in the third for Jose Santiago, whose sore elbow forced him to retire. Santiago has been replaced on the All-Star team by Boston teammate Gary Bell.

Al Worthington's wild pitch allowed Cleveland's tie-breaking run to score and then Joe Azcue doubled two more runs across as the Indians dropped the Twins. Dean Chance was leading 3-2 going into the eighth but singles by Vern Fuller, Lee Maye and Russ Snyder tied the score. A wild pitch by reliever Ron Perranoski and an intentional walk to Lou Johnson set the stage for Worthington's wild pitch and Azcue's hit.



FUNSETH FINISH. Rod Funseth misses a birdie putt on the last hole but still carded a 68 to tie for the lead after the first round of the Buick Open in Grand Blanc, Michigan yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Funseth, Baird Lead Buick Open Tourney

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — A couple of journeyman pros with only two PGA tournament victories between them shared the lead going into today's second round of the $125,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

Rod Funseth of San Jose, Calif., and Butch Baird of Carlton Oaks, Calif., carved four-under-par 68s out of the long playing 7,001-yard par-72 Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club course Thursday.

Bounced lightly one stroke off the pace were long-hitting Marty Fleckman, South African Harold Henning, Rod Horn of Overland Park, Kan., and Don Feirfield of Palm Springs, Calif.

Defending champion Julius Boros and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino were with a group of 10 others two strokes behind the leaders.

Baird, a 31-year-old, nine-year veteran of the pro tour, had a chance to grab the lead on his closing hole but turned in his only bogey of the day to back into a tie with Funseth.

Training Starts Sunday

NFL Owners, Players Waiting For Strike

By The Associated Press

The strike there is one—of the National Football League Players Association now has reached the wait-and-see stage.

"Nobody is on strike now," veteran tackle Alex Karras said in Detroit.

"We won't know until Sunday when San Francisco goes into camp if there's a strike at all.

"All of the players will be on strike if there is no settlement before next week."

John Gordy, president of the Players Association, is maintaining official silence, but scores of players have said they received telegrams from him ordering them not to report until negotiations can be worked out with the owners.

The only official comment since the break-up of a meeting between player representatives and an owners group last weekend came from Art Modell, NFL president.

He said the plapers had rejected the owner's offer, particularly in the area of improved pension benefits. They apparently agreed on most, if not all, other points.

San Francisco has the first camp opening—for rookits Sunday. Rookies are not members of the Players Association.

Nineteen veteran members of the 49ers, including Howard Mudd, Bruce Bosley, Ken Willard and Joe Cerne, said they would not report at that time.

Veterans were scheduled to report the following week.

Detroit opens its rookie camp July 9, with Detroit and Green Bay scheduled the following day.

San Francisco owner Lou Spadia, however, said he did not think a strike would take place.

"I'm optimistic that it can be settled quickly," he said.

Gordy, however, has declined comment on whether future talks between player representatives and owners are scheduled.

Patterson, Ellis Sign For Fight

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Floyd Patterson gets a chance in September to become a heavyweight boxing champion for the third time.

The New Yorker signed Thursday to meet Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title.

The fight will be held in the 52,000-seat Raasunda soccer stadium with Ellis defending the WBA crown he won last April by defeating Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

That was the final of the WBA elimination tourney to determine a successor to Cassius Clay.

Clay was stripped of title recognition by the WBA and the New York Athletic Commission when he refused military induction into the U.S. armed forces.

Amateurs Don't Get Wimbledon Prizes

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The professional tennis stars, only partly successful at the first-ever open Wimbledon, may press for bigger prize money next year.

George MacCall, the promoter who runs the National Tennis League, said its organization would have lost $20,000 by entering its stars in the Wimbledon tournament—even if they had cleaned up all the prize money.

One of MacCall's stars, Australian Rod Laver, plays in today's final. None of the other five reached tht quarter-finals.

MacCall said: "We have to support Wimbledon, which is a symbol of world tennis. But we can't go on supporting Wimbledon at a loss."

MacCall reportedly has suggested that next year prize money should be distributed among professionals—and registered amateurs playing for prize money—according to the order in which they finish. At present, if an amateur wins the prize money he goes back into the kitty.

The All-England Club, which runs the Wimbledon tournament, offered $62,400 in prize money altogether. At present, it looks as if almost half of it will not be paid out because amateurs did better than many of the pros.

In today's men's singles final Laver faced Tony Roche, another Australian who is a member of the rival "Handsome Eight" troupe. They are battling for a first prize of $4,800 with $3,120 going to the runnerup.

The two defeated semifinalists were American amateurs—Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Clark Graebner of New York—so the tournament officials saved a total of $3,600 there.

There's also a 50-50 chance that the women's first prize of $1,800 will go back into the pot. The final will be played Sunday between the defending champion, Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who is under contract to MacCall and is going for the prize, and Australian amateur Judy Tegart, who is competing for expenses only.

Mrs. King overcame her old professional rival, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 Thursday.

Miss Tegart upset United States Wightman Cup star Nancp Richey of San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-1.

M&A Rally Nips Rogers' In 14-13 Game

M & A Dodge, down 8-1 going into the last inning, rallied for 10 runs and hung on for a 14-13 win over Rogers' Drive-In in eight innings in a minor league game Wednesday night.

First National rolled 17-3 over Potters Savings and TS&T outlasted Tri - State 12-10 in the other games.

Rogers' tied the score in the last of the sixth, 11-11, but when M&A scored three times in the top of the eighth Rogers' could counter with only two markers and fell short. Randy Lawson was the winning pitcher and Shelton the loser. Rob Kittridge, Steve White and Gary Marker had two hits each and Jim Woods a double for M&A. Dray had two hits and Barber a double for Rogers'.

First National slammed eight triples in its easy win. Mike Yanni had three, Dean Badgley two plus a single, Andy Calhoun triple and two singles, Ken Morris and Jim Davis a triple and a single each and winning pitcher Joe Webb added three singles. Jeff Cekovich took the loss and Joey Corbisello had two singles for the losers.

Burbick's Wins Pony Opener 5-3

Burbick's rallied for two runs in the sixth to down Littens 5-3 in the opening game of the Pony League playoffs at Beaver Local Wednesday night.

Tom Samples doubled and Ben Gregory singled him home to make it 5-4. Gregory was out trying to steal, but Jim Tipton singled, stole second and scored on an error for an insurance run.

Tipton was the winning pitcher, allowing only one hit, a two-run homer by Dutch Wright in the first. Tipton tied the game in the bottom half of the inning with a two - run single. Gregory walked in the fourth, took second on a hit by Tipton, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a squeeze bunt by Mike Banfield. A hit batsman, walk, sacrifice and error allowed Littens to tie the game in the fifth.

Dean Horger was the losing pitcher. The playoffs continue tonight.

Susie Berning Leads Ladies Open Golf

READING, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Susie Maxwell Berning had little chance to brag about the two-under-par 69 which gave her the lead after the first round of the 16th annual U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship.

Her husband of seven weeks quickly brought her out of the clouds by disclosing he hadt o stop playing golf with his bride because he consistently defeated her and deflated her ego.

Dale Berning is a 6-handicap golfer who is in the real estate development business in Nevada. He was a one-man gallery Thursday as his wife charged around the tough, 6,232-yard Moselem Springs Golf Club course to gain a one-stroke lead over four-time national champion Mickey Wright.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Juan Pizarro, Red Sox, allowed just one hit and struck out seven in 6 2-3 innings of relief, leading Boston to a 7-2 victory over Oakland.

Dr. Fager Wins Race At Aqueduct

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manny Ycaza showed with Damascus, placed with a helicopter and won with Dark Mirage.

Damascus carried the veteran jockey home third behind Dr. Fager and Bold Hour Thursday in the $107,100, 1¼-mile Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct.

About 23 minutes later a helicopter placed Ycaza at Monmouth Park, 25 air miles from Aqueduct.

Dark Mirage then carried him home first in the $54,650 Monmouth Oaks over 1⅛ miles.

The Suburban and Monmouth Oaks were the headliners of a busy Fourth of July stakes program.

Cardinals Win Twice In Hot Stove

Dave DiCiccio hurled a one-hitter as the Cardinals downed the Pirates 4-1 in a Hot Stove League game Wednesday.

DiCiccio struck out 10. Jim Honaker had two hits and drove in two runs. Rick Migliore was the loser, allowing only four hits. Vornavich got the Pirates' lone hit, in the last inning with one out. The win assures the Cardinals of at least a tie for the second half title.

Rick Prodonovich led the Cardinals to a 15-1 win over the Braves Friday.

Prodonovich fanned 12 and allowed only two hits. He collected three hits himself. Dave DiCiccio, Jim Honaker, Essa and Hulme all had two hits for the Cardinals. Paul Doyle got both hits for the Braves. Gomez was the loser.

DiCicco beat the Mets 4-1 Thursday. He fanned 12 and yielded only two hits and got two hits himself. Honaker and Frank D'apalloni also had two hits. Smacky took the loss.

Susie Berning Leads Ladies Open Golf

READING, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Susie Maxwell Berning had little chance to brag about the two-under-par 69 which gave her the lead after the first round of the 16th annual U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship.

Her husband of seven weeks quickly brought her out of the clouds by disclosing he hadt o stop playing golf with his bride because he consistently defeated her and deflated her ego.

Dale Berning is a 6-handicap golfer who is in the real estate development business in Nevada. He was a one-man gallery Thursday as his wife charged around the tough, 6,232-yard Moselem Springs Golf Club course to gain a one-stroke lead over four-time national champion Mickey Wright.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Juan Pizarro, Red Sox, allowed just one hit and struck out seven in 6 2-3 innings of relief, leading Boston to a 7-2 victory over Oakland.

Dr. Fager Wins Race At Aqueduct

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manny Ycaza showed with Damascus, placed with a helicopter and won with Dark Mirage.

Damascus carried the veteran jockey home third behind Dr. Fager and Bold Hour Thursday in the $107,100, 1¼-mile Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct.

About 23 minutes later a helicopter placed Ycaza at Monmouth Park, 25 air miles from Aqueduct.

Dark Mirage then carried him home first in the $54,650 Monmouth Oaks over 1⅛ miles.

The Suburban and Monmouth Oaks were the headliners of a busy Fourth of July stakes program.

Peaches Bartkowicz Enters U.S. Tennis

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Peaches Bartkowicz, 19, of Hamtramck, Mich., became the first U.S. entry today in the U.S. National Tennis Championships Aug. 16-25 at Longwood.

Miss Bartkowicz, the nation's third-ranked player, is the U.S. junior and U.S. hardcourt champion.

Cardinals Win Twice In Hot Stove

Dave DiCiccio hurled a one-hitter as the Cardinals downed the Pirates 4-1 in a Hot Stove League game Wednesday.

DiCiccio struck out 10. Jim Honaker had two hits and drove in two runs. Rick Migliore was the loser, allowing only four hits. Vornavich got the Pirates' lone hit, in the last inning with one out. The win assures the Cardinals of at least a tie for the second half title.

Rick Prodonovich led the Cardinals to a 15-1 win over the Braves Friday.

Prodonovich fanned 12 and allowed only two hits. He collected three hits himself. Dave DiCiccio, Jim Honaker, Essa and Hulme all had two hits for the Cardinals. Paul Doyle got both hits for the Braves. Gomez was the loser.

DiCicco beat the Mets 4-1 Thursday. He fanned 12 and yielded only two hits and got two hits himself. Honaker and Frank D'apalloni also had two hits. Smacky took the loss.

Denver Rockets Sign 6-10 Bill Pickens

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association Thursday signed Bill Pickens, a 6-foot-10, 255-pound Georgia Southern graduate. Pickens was on the taxi squad of the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League during 1966 and part of 1967.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Pneumonia Victims Can Recover Fully

Q—I had a chest X ray and my doctor said that most of the exudative area had cleared up but that small areas have become fibrotic. What does that mean?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — I assume that you had some form of pneumonia, a disease that is characterized by a pouring out of fluid (exudate) into the air sacs of the lungs. There are, however, several other causes of fibrosis (replacement of normal tissue by scar tissue) in the lungs. You might ask your doctor to be more specific.

Q — I have had pneumonia twice in the last seven years. Is it true that, once one has pneumonia, the lungs will always be weaker?

A — No. Most persons make a full recovery, after which they are no more and no less likely to get another attack than they were before.

Q—I had a chest X ray that showed calcium deposits in my lungs. What is the cause? What can be done about it? Is it serious?

A—In most cases, calcified areas are old, healed lesions of tuberculosis, often acquired in one's teens and without one's knowledge. They require no treatment. If you keep yourself in good health, there is no danger that the lesions will break down and cause a recurrence of the disease.

Q—What is the cause of anterior bowing of the sternum? How does it affect a person? Are there any serious complications?

A—I assume that what you have is a "pigeon breast," a congenital deformity. If it is slight, it will not affect your health. If it is severe, it may crowd your heart and make you tire easily on mild exertion or it may decrease your lung capacity and make you short - winded.

Q—What causes a person's chest to feel tight so that it is hard to breathe freely?

A—Barring an acute bronchitis with fever, the most frequent cause is nervous tension.

Q — I don't smoke. Can I get lung cancer by breathing the cigarette smoke in the air?

A—Since the concentration of smoke in the air is never high except under conditions of extremely poor ventilation and since lung cancer results only after many years of daily heavy smoking, the danger is negligible.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Unscheduled Display

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Patrons who arrived early for a fireworks display at a drive-in theater Thursday got to see the warm-up show. The concession stand burned down.

Explorer Satellite To Chart Milky Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 417-pound explorer satellite is orbiting the Earth as part of a program intended to aid scientists in compiling the first low-frequency radio map of the Milky Way.

The craft, designated Radio Astronomy Explorer—A, was sent into an elliptical orbit Thursday, from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

It will eventually be thrust into a circular orbit 3,700 miles high. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the satellite will be operational in about a week.

After the satellite reaches its final orbital position, four long antennas will be extended to form a giant "X". These will be capable of receiving ultra-low-frequency radio signals that cannot be received on Earth. The antennas will each be 750 feet long.

Dad's Beer Appears On Soft Drink Stand

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Three small children set up a soft drink stand, selling a cupful for two cents.

But they got some advice from a customer who checked their stock.

'You'd better put those back in your mother's refrigerator," he said, pointing to three bottles of beer.

Old Ship Scuttled To Satisfy U.S. Debt

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — A dignified old ship, the interisland freighter Manua Tele, was towed out to sea Wednesday and burned, for nonpayment of debts.

The ship was owned by natives of Manua Island north of here. But the old minesweeper was ordered auctioned off to satisfy a $9,000 debt to the U.S. government for repairs.

A sixth grade class in San Francisco made the only bid—$73.60.

Not enough, said the government. So the ship was stripped of salvage, towed eight miles to sea by a Coast Guard cutter and scuttled.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, at the office of said Director, until 12 o'clock A.M., Eastern Daylight Savings Time, July 15, 1968, for furnishing the necessary labor and materials for curbing, drainage, resurfacing and miscellaneous items for the improvement of the following streets:

All in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in said office.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond in the amount of 5% of the total bid to the satisfaction of the Director, or be a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the total bid, payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected, such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Danny Jim Little 1948-1955. You seemed so small, just 7 years grown, to take that long trip all alone, and we who sheltered you from harm, and kept you fed and clothed and warm, were overcome with grief to see you face alone death's mystery — And you who'd seldom left your home. Now, not alone, for we can see an angel waiting there for thee. And right inside the Golden Gate the Christ Child smiles and says, "We wait for you — come in". You grasp his outstretched hand in hearty clasp, and joining in the happy band, to us you turn and wave your hand; And suddenly we knew that you, like all the rest, are smiling too. Though lonely is the path we trod. How can we mourn when you're with God.

EDNA E. LOGAN: In loving memory of our dear mom, grandma and great grandma who went to sleep 4 years ago today, July 5, 1964.
Dearest Mom:
You went to heaven four years ago just as the sun went down
God saw you growing weary
He did what He thought best.
He came and stood beside you
then whispered come and rest.
He gently touched your eyelids to give you eternal rest.
You bade no one a last goodbye.
Before we knew it you were gone.
So mom we will pray to God each day that when He calls us home to stay your smile will guide us all the way to be at home with God and you.
Sadly missed by Sons—Robert and Family, Albert and Charles and Families—Daughters Betty Narduzzi and Family, Geraldine Grimm and Family and all who loved her as we did.

IN loving memory of the birthday of our very dear friend Ethel M. Lucas who passed away 8 months ago, Aug. 7, 1967. Although you're spending your birthday in heaven, I'm sure that you will hear, Every time we whisper softly, Happy birthday, Ethel, dear.
Ula Monte and family, Eleanor Logan and family and Mildred Briggs and family.

IN memory of Wilson Tams who passed away one year ago, July 5th. Not dead to us who loved
He lives with us in memory, And him, Not lost, but gone before, will for evermore. Loving wife, daughters, son and grandchildren.

IN loving memory of our father, Wilson Tams, who passed away 1 year ago today July 5th.
Our kind and loving father,
We think of you today,
And recall the happy hours,
Never shall your memory fade,
And altho we miss you so,
We are waiting till we, also
Leave this world of strife and woe.
Elvin, Pauline and children.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Pneumonia Victims Can Recover Fully

Q—I had a chest X ray and my doctor said that most of the exudative area had cleared up but that small areas have become fibrotic. What does that mean?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — I assume that you had some form of pneumonia, a disease that is characterized by a pouring out of fluid (exudate) into the air sacs of the lungs. There are, however, several other causes of fibrosis (replacement of normal tissue by scar tissue) in the lungs. You might ask your doctor to be more specific.

Q — I have had pneumonia twice in the last seven years. Is it true that, once one has pneumonia, the lungs will always be weaker?

A — No. Most persons make a full recovery, after which they are no more and no less likely to get another attack than they were before.

Q—I had a chest X ray that showed calcium deposits in my lungs. What is the cause? What can be done about it? Is it serious?

A—In most cases, calcified areas are old, healed lesions of tuberculosis, often acquired in one's teens and without one's knowledge. They require no treatment. If you keep yourself in good health, there is no danger that the lesions will break down and cause a recurrence of the disease.

Q—What is the cause of anterior bowing of the sternum? How does it affect a person? Are there any serious complications?

A—I assume that what you have is a "pigeon breast," a congenital deformity. If it is slight, it will not affect your health. If it is severe, it may crowd your heart and make you tire easily on mild exertion or it may decrease your lung capacity and make you short - winded.

Q—What causes a person's chest to feel tight so that it is hard to breathe freely?

A—Barring an acute bronchitis with fever, the most frequent cause is nervous tension.

Q — I don't smoke. Can I get lung cancer by breathing the cigarette smoke in the air?

A—Since the concentration of smoke in the air is never high except under conditions of extremely poor ventilation and since lung cancer results only after many years of daily heavy smoking, the danger is negligible.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Explorer Satellite To Chart Milky Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 417-pound explorer satellite is orbiting the Earth as part of a program intended to aid scientists in compiling the first low-frequency radio map of the Milky Way.

The craft, designated Radio Astronomy Explorer—A, was sent into an elliptical orbit Thursday, from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

It will eventually be thrust into a circular orbit 3,700 miles high. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the satellite will be operational in about a week.

After the satellte reaches its final orbital position, four long antennas will be extended to form a giant "X". These will be capable of receiving ultra-low-frequency radio signals that cannot be received on Earth. The antennas will each be 750 feet long.

Dad's Beer Appears On Soft Drink Stand

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Three small children set up a soft drink stand, selling a cupful for two cents.

But they got some advice from a customer who checked their stock.

"You'd better put those back in your mother's refrigerator," he said, pointing to three bottles of beer.

Old Ship Scuttled To Satisfy U.S. Debt

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — A dignified old ship, the interisland freighter Manua Tele, was towed out to sea Wednesday and burned, for nonpayment of debts.

The ship was owned by natives of Manua Island north of here. But the old minesweeper was ordered auctioned off to satisfy a $9,000 debt to the U.S. government for repairs.

A sixth grade class in San Francisco made the only bid—$73.60.

Not enough, said the government. So the ship was stripped of salvage, towed eight miles to sea by a Coast Guard cutter and scuttled.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Danny Jim Little 1948-1955. You seemed so small, just 7 years grown, to take that long trip all alone, and we who sheltered you from harm, and kept you fed and clothed and warm, were overcome with grief to see you face alone death's mystery — And you who'd seldom left your home. Now, not alone, for we can see an angel waiting there for thee. And right inside the Golden Gate the Christ Child smiles and says, "We wait for you — come in". You grasp his outstretched hand in hearty clasp, and joining in the happy band, to us you turn and wave your hand; And suddenly we knew that you, like all the rest, are smiling too. Though lonely is the path we trod. How can we mourn when you're with God.

EDNA E. LOGAN: In loving memory of our dear mom, grandma and great grandma who went to sleep 4 years ago today, July 5, 1964.

Dearest Mom:
You went to heaven four years ago just as the sun went down
God saw you growing weary He did what He thought best. He came and stood beside you then whispered come and rest. He gently touched your eyelids to give you eternal rest. You bade no one a last goodbye. Before we knew it you were gone. So mom we will pray to God each day that when He calls us home to stay your smile will guide us all the way to be at home with God and you.
Sadly missed by Sons—Robert and Family, Albert and Charles and Families—Daughters Betty Narduzzi and Family, Geraldine Grimm and Family and all who loved her as we did.

IN loving memory of the birthday of our very dear friend Ethel M. Lucas who passed away 8 months ago, Aug. 7, 1967. Although you're spending your birthday in heaven, I'm sure that you will hear, Every time we whisper softly, Happy birthday, Ethel, dear.
Ula Monte and family, Eleanor Logan and family and Mildred Briggs and family.

IN memory of Wilson Tams who passed away one year ago, July 5th. Not dead to us who loved He lives with us in memory, And him, Not lost, but gone before, will for evermore. Loving wife, daughters, son and grandchildren.

IN loving memory of our father, Wilson Tams, who passed away 1 year ago today July 5th.
Our kind and loving father,
We think of you today,
And recall the happy hours,
Never shall your memory fade,
And altho we miss you so,
We are waiting till we also
Leave this world of strife and woe.
Elvin, Pauline and children.

A Junior Editors Quiz About FAIRY TALES

QUESTION: Why did people imagine there were fairies?

* * * *

ANSWER: Did you ever lie awake at night hearing little pattering sounds which sounded like tiny footsteps? You knew some small creature was making them. Yet they didn't sound like an animal's steps, they seemed to walk, just like a very small man. You could see him in your mind — perhaps he was trying to play some trick on you — you could see his long nose as he went poking into other peoples' business — his impudent grin. Of course, these sounds perhaps were only those of a mouse, but your imagination had created a fairy. In earlier times, before there was scientific knowledge, people of many nations created fairies in some such way as this, by using their imaginations with little regard to actual fact. As a whole, fairies were often called the little people. The French called theirs fee, the Italians fata, the Spaniards hada. It was thought that little people had magical powers and liked to interfere in human affairs, for example, by turning people into animals (upper right). But fairies could be good, too. Many children have gone to sleep dreaming of a beautiful, white fairy who would watch over them and push the nightmares away.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I do a better-than-average job of washing picture frame glass?

A. — This can be washed to a sparkling cleanness with water to which a little vinegar has been added, or ammonia. Use a sponge, a chamois, or a soft cloth, well wrung out. If the sponge or cloth is too wet, water might seep between the frame and glass and stain your picture. Polish with a soft, dry cloth.

Q. — How can I make a low-calorie salad dressing?

A. — Combine 2-3 cup of cottage cheese, 1-3 cup fresh grapefruit juice, two tablespoons fresh lemon juice or lime juice, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon each of ground black pepper and paprika. Beat with an electric or rotary beater. Serve over salad greens or fruit salad. Makes 1¼ cups.

Q. — A dripping faucet in our bathtub has caused a discoloration on the porcelain. How can I remove this stain

A. — By rubbing a paste of cream of tartar and peroxide over the stain with a stiff brush. Plain old vinegar sometimes works, too.
